Cutback In Mail Services

Only One Delivery Daily to Residential Sections; Order is Effective at Once

Assistant postmaster of Sedalia Guy L. Johnson, said today he had received no official notification from Washington, D. C., concerning the order of one delivery a day. He further said that deliveries in Sedalia are being made as in the past, and they will continue to make the same deliveries until official notice is received.

WASHINGTON, April 19 — (AP) — Most postmasters over the country get orders today for a cut in mail service, including a limit of one delivery a day to residential areas.

Further, post office windows are to close earlier where possible and other economies are in the works.

The orders were announced last night by Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson. Postmasters were instructed to begin putting them into effect as soon as they are received.

The "immediate" order applies particularly to delivery restrictions. A 30-day notice is to be allowed on the curtailment of services that affect business operations, such as receipt of mail at the windows and back platforms of postoffices.

WASHINGTON, April 19 — (AP) — A cutback in nationwide postal service was termed "outrageous" today by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.).

"Fifty million tired taxpayers have been hit in the mailbox by this ruling," Wiley said in a statement. He said "there is a need for more mail service rather than less mail service."

Cuts Necessary

Donaldson explained that cuts in service are necessary because post office costs have been far out-running postal receipts.

He has been trying to get Congress to vote more money to his department and to let it raise postal rates by a total of about $600,000,000 a year.

In fact, some members of Congress took the view that the mail service curtailment was decided on in order to pressure Congress into giving the postal department more money.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.), of the appropriations committee commented to newsmen that the decision to curb service "seems well-timed."

He added that a storm of protests from mail users probably will follow the department's decision and is bound to be reflected when House members vote on postal funds in the omnibus appropriations bill, probably next week.

Organized Campaign

"There has been an organized campaign to increase almost every allotment in this bill," Cannon said. "The bill already carries more money than the country can afford to spend, and I am going to fight every move to increase its total."

Rep. Taber of New York, top Republican on the committee, said he would go further and demand that there not only be no increases but that the bill's total be trimmed "substantially."

For the postoffice department the bill would allot $2,207,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1. This is a reduction of $28,000,000 from what the president requested but $105,000,000 more than the department received for the current fiscal year.

NEW YORK, April 19 — (AP) — A postal union official said today that cutbacks in U. S. postal service probably will cause "furlough or dismissal" of 10 to 15 per cent of New York City's letter carriers. Philip Lepper, president of New York Branch 36 of the AFL National Association of Letter Carriers, said the cutback orders have "thrown panic into the hearts" of the 5,200 local letter carriers he represents.

The economy order, trimming mail deliveries to once daily, also will "doubtless mean" reductions in clerical forces, Lepper said. He added that postal workers would not strike because of the order, even if federal law permitted them to do so.

Lepper charged the order would hurt business and the American public "far worse" than postal employees.

'Signals' Topic Of Talk Given At Lions Club

Gates to be Erected At Ohio, Kentucky Speaker Declares

The Sedalia Lions club had its noonday speaker today E. W. Kettleton, signal supervisor of the Missouri Pacific Lines, who spoke on "Signals and Safety." The meeting was held in the Ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel.

Beginning his talk, Mr. Kettleton said: "We are all more or less railroaders. Some are professional railroaders because they make their living by working on the railroad. Others are railroaders through hobby, because they railroad by making and running scale models. Others are railroaders, we might say, once a year — at Christmas time. That's when we go shopping for an electric train for Junior or the grandson. We must first set it up and operate it before Christmas to see if it works. Then take it over because we are afraid Junior or the grandson might break it."

"Then there is the railroad worker who has to ever-so-often take the boy down to the station to see the trains come in and leave. We like it, too, because it's an excuse to go to the station."

Must Work Together

"Professional railroad taking the section man to build the roadbed and lay the tracks for the locomotive to run on. It takes the shopman to build the locomotive that runs on the tracks. And it takes others to operate it. Some think their job is the most important, while in fact one cannot operate without the other. None can successfully operate without the signals in this generation of fast trains."

"Signals are like the nerves in our bodies. They operate from a central point and spread out over hundreds of miles of railroad the same as the nerve system in the human body. Signals were crude at the start and the first advent of signals was a suspended ball in front of the station."

Held For Inquiry Into Beating of Son

TOLEDO, O., April 19 — (AP) — Joseph Vinarski, Sr., 34, beat his 3-year-old son about the head and body, pulled out some of his hair and then put salt on the child's buttock wounds, police inspector Anthony Bosch said today.

The child went into convulsions and is reported in poor condition. The father, held by police for investigation, denied the beating. The child's mother insisted he struck the boy because he was "not house-broken."

Open House at Telephone Co. April 27, 28, 29

Next week, Sedalia residents are invited to visit behind-the-scenes of their telephone systems. T. M. Mullaly, manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company announced today.

Plans have been completed for an "Open House" at the telephone building, 202 East Third street, Thursday through Saturday, April 27, 28 and 29, Mullaly said.

Everyone is invited to visit the exchange during the afternoons and evenings of these three days and get a "back stage" view of how the telephone system operates, the manager said.

Twenty telephone employees will be on hand to serve as guides. They will conduct visitors through the buildings and explain the equipment to them.

Special Displays

In addition to the demonstration of central office equipment, Mullaly explained that special displays also will be set up. Included will be a model of Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone, a section of coaxial cable used for the transmission of television, a recording machine that will enable visitors to hear what their voices sound like over the telephone, and many other items.

The hours of the Open House are from 2 to 5 in the afternoons, and 7 to 9 in the evenings. Mullaly said that all subscribers will receive a special invitation in the mail soon.

Four Boys on An Outing Are Drowned

Became Panicky And Leaped Into Water When Barge Floated

ST. LOUIS, April 19 — (AP) — Four boys on an outing from school drowned yesterday in a needless leap from a runaway barge in the Mississippi river at St. Louis.

A huge grain barge on which they were playing broke loose and started floating downstream.

The four victims and another boy became panicky and leaped into the water as the barge swung out about 100 feet from shore. They ignored the shouted warning of a bystander not to jump.

The lone survivor, James Hugen, 13, managed to grasp one end of a rope thrown to him by the bystander, Lee Crabtree.

Seemed Able to Swim

"All of the boys seemed able to swim, but as I worked with Hugen to get him ashore I could see them sink, one by one," Crabtree said.

"They were caught in the strong current and swept away from me downstream." Drowned were Edward Johnson, 14, and his brother, John, 12, Albert Moll, 13, and Eugene Duerst, 13.

All would have been safe had they remained on the big barge. Bodies Not Recovered

Their bodies have not been recovered. Police speculated the boys had tampered with the barge's moorings, allowing it to break loose. The only clue as to why the youths leaped into the swift current came from Hugen, after a tearful reunion with his mother.

He said they were afraid police would blame them for the barge breaking loose. The boys had been excused from classes at a Catholic school because their teachers had to attend a meeting.

They went to the river to fish. The 280-foot barge, loaded with 85,000 bushels of corn, was retrieved by Federal Barge Lines workers and towed back upstream.

Will Operate to Remove Peanut

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19 — (AP) — Surgeons at Letterman General hospital here will operate today to remove the peanut which Randy Hollyfield, 3, got stuck in his throat Saturday night in Tokyo.

When physicians in Japan were not able to remove the peanut, the child was hurried aboard a trans-Pacific plane of the Military Air Transport Service and flown to the United States. The plane landed at the Fairfield-Suisun base last night.

Randy is the son of Sgt. and Mrs. George B. Hollyfield whose home town is Cherry Valley, Ark.

Bond Issue Approved

CARROLLTON, Mo., April 19. — (AP) — A $100,000 bond issue for improvements in the water and light plants of the Carrollton municipal utilities was approved yesterday at a special election.

The vote was 154 to 25, well over the 4/7 majority required. The improvements will double the capacity of the water plant, extended a year ago by purchase of the former Kansas City Power and Light plant here, and will increase by nearly 50 per cent the capacity of the power plant.

The 1950 State Fair premium book, now in the final stage of publication, will reach the public several weeks earlier than usual and 22,000 copies soon will be mailed to Fair patrons, exhibitors and other interested persons all over the United States, Mexico and Canada. The book includes nearly 300 pages and the cover, in maroon and gold, is in the Gay Nineties motif, this being the fiftieth year of the State Fair as in institution.

It carries display advertising from nearly 100 business firms, over a wide territory, and covers the twenty-six major departments of the Fair in detail, as well as giving all regulations, prices and general information. Cancer Drive Into County

The Business and Professional Women's club sponsoring the Cancer Crusade, announces that county organization is getting underway with Beaman, Greenridge and Smithton organized.

Miss Rose Leibbrand, county campaign chairman has contacted as local chairmen in the county. Mr. L. C. Holdner and Mrs. I. J. Rhoads, Beaman; Mrs. Mattie Myers and Mrs. Wilma Eckhoff, Greenridge; co-chairmen; with Miss Verona Neumeier, in charge of Smithton collections.

Interest in Pettis county is largely centered on the fact that this county has one of five cancer detection clinics in the state of Missouri available for the use of all citizens. The continued maintenance and development of this detection center is imperative, for 50 per cent of all cancer cases can be checked if discovered in time.

There are 6244 deaths from all types of cancer forecast for Missouri in 1950; your contributions will materially aid in reducing these prospective deaths to approximately 3122 deaths. Give to conquer cancer.

Twelve Bishops Take Part in Consecrating Bishop Welles

KANSAS CITY, April 19. — (AP) — The Very Rev. Edward Randolph Welles today was consecrated bishop of the Episcopal diocese which includes more than 10,000 members of the church.

Twelve bishops participated in the two-hour ritual held in a brilliant setting of church pageantry at the Grace and Holy Trinity cathedral.

They climaxed the ritual by joining in the laying on of hands, symbolizing the elevation of the 42-year-old dean to the episcopate.

Red, purple, black and white in the vestments of the Episcopal clergy provided a rich background for the centuries-old ceremonies.

The ritual began with a block-long procession of church and lay leaders into the cathedral. It was witnessed by 300 communicants from Episcopal parishes here who had been allotted tickets.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherill of New York, presiding bishop of the church, was consecrator of the new bishop. The Rt. Rev. Robert Nelson Spencer, the retiring bishop of the diocese, was co-consecrator today.

What the Cold War Means To Symington

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19 — This is how W. Stuart Symington, Secretary for Air, sees the cold war:

Russia considers war inevitable. Russia can deliver a surprise atomic attack on "any part of the United States."

Against such a blow, the U. S. is defenseless. "Our greatest defense will be the knowledge on the part of whoever is foolish enough to attack us that we would be prepared to carry out a full retaliatory attack," Symington told the chamber of commerce last night.

Symington leaves the Air Force Monday to become chairman of the National Security Resources Board. He said his new job will be to help develop a strong defense.

Evening Papers Went for Waste

MONETT, Mo., April 19 — (AP) — "Where's our paper?"

That's what scores of irate callers asked Mrs. Frank Snyder last night.

And Mrs. Snyder, distributor for the Springfield Leader and Press here, didn't have the slightest idea. Neither did circulation officials in Springfield.

Finally—after three hours of answering subscribers' calls—it dawned on Mrs. Snyder.

Monett high school is sponsoring a scrap paper drive and had asked residents to place bundles in front of their homes. One industrious collector apparently had thrown several bundles of the Springfield papers—fresh off the press—in a truckload of scrap and had sent it to Joplin.

Re-Establish Soil Conservation District

LEXINGTON, Mo., April 19. — (AP) — Re-establishment of a soil conservation district in Freedom and Lexington townships was approved yesterday in a referendum. The vote was 414 to 172.

Earlier this year a soil district plan for the two townships was declared null and void on the grounds that procedure in setting it up was illegal.

Dog Licenses Due May 1, Now Available at City Hall

"It'll soon be time for dog owners to redeem dog license tags, as they become due, May 1. They are now on sale at the city collector's office in the city hall."

Last year, 599 dog tags were issued from the city collector's office. The price for dog tags are: For every male dog and spayed female dog, the sum of one dollar; for every unspayed female dog, the sum of $2.50. Every dog within the city limits of Sedalia that has been weaned or taken from its mother, or has reached the age of four months, must be licensed.

Following are a few quotes from ordinance No. 3395(pertaining to the keeping of dogs within the corporate limits of the city of Sedalia: Part of Ordinance

If the owner produce to the officer a certificate of registry and proof of loss of tag, the officer shall refrain from taking up such dog or dogs."

Inquest Into Shull Death Thursday P.M.

Death Believed to Be Result of Fracas Saturday Night

An inquest into the death of Andrew F. "Andy" Shull, who died at the Bothwell hospital early Tuesday morning, is to be held at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Assembly Room of the Court House. Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, will conduct the inquest, assisted by Prosecuting Attorney William F. Brown.

An autopsy was performed on the body at the Ewing Funeral Home, this morning, by Dr. Stauffacher and Dr. A. J. Campbell, who attended Shull while he was a patient in the hospital. Death resulted from a fracture of the fifth cervical vertebra, resulting in paralysis.

Shull, it was learned, participated in a fracas at the Rock Inn Tavern, north of Sedalia on Highway 65 near Bothwell Lodge shortly before midnight Saturday. His injuries, it was said, were believed to have resulted from this fracas.

Asked For Warrant

Shull appeared at police headquarters and gave a report of the incident and asked for a warrant. Police informed him he would have to contact the prosecuting attorney. He then went to the home of a sister, and Sunday morning was taken to the hospital, where he died at 1:05 o'clock Tuesday morning.

C. R. Ackerman, Smithton, went to the home of Sheriff John Taylor, early Sunday morning and requested the arrest of Shull. Sheriff Taylor said he told Ackerman he would have to secure a warrant and Monday morning Ackerman went to Prosecuting Attorney Brown and signed an information for the warrant. Further procedure was held up pending the outcome of Shull's condition.

Liquor Agents Make Report

Sen. Taft Upholds McCarthy

Demands Inquiry Of Charges Against State Department Made by McCarthy

WASHINGTON, April 19 — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) charged today that influential forces in the State Department had "refused to regard the delivery of (government) papers to Communists as a serious offense."

Taft fired this blast at unnamed diplomatic officials in a weekly report to his voters in which he discussed the 1945 Amerasia magazine case and other matters. He also demanded that a Senate foreign relations subcommittee make "an independent, affirmative investigation" of charges made by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

McCarthy has been charging for weeks that the State Department is and has been a haven for Communists and fellow travelers.

He has especially tried to link John S. Service, consular officer, Owen Lattimore, Far Eastern specialist, with the Amerasia case. Service was one of six persons who were arrested on charges of slipping war secrets to the editors of Amerasia, a publication specializing in articles on the Far East.

Refused To Indict

A grand jury refused to indict Service. Three persons were indicted on lesser charges, two of whom were fined. The case against the third of those indicted was dropped.

Lattimore has denied that he figured in getting any secret documents to Amerasia and he also has denied McCarthy's broader charge that he is the top Russian agent in this country. Service likewise has denied any connection with Communists.

The investigating subcommittee has ordered its staff to sift the Amerasia case again while the members themselves go ahead tomorrow with hearing Louis Budenz, former Communist and now a Fordham university professor, testify on what he knows about Lattimore.

In his report to Ohio voters, Taft combined a new defense of McCarthy with an attack on the subcommittee's procedure and on State Department actions and policies.

Spoke of Evidence

In the latter connection, he said there was evidence in the Amerasia case that secret documents were delivered "to a magazine office which had strong Communist connections."

"Some of those concerned were let off with fines and another one (Service) was reinstated in the State Department," Taft said. "In other words, influential forces in the State Department at best refused to regard the delivery of papers to Communists as a serious offense. The long pro-Communist record of far-eastern division raises the same doubt."

Upholds McCarthy

Taft said it isn't true, as charged by some, that "Senator McCarthy is deliberately and publicly accusing prominent citizens of Communist connections for political purposes."

Asserting that the subcommittee headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md.), was instructed by the Senate to make an investigation of McCarthy's charges, Taft said that hadn't been done yet.

"The majority seem to have been more interested in hampering Senator McCarthy than in carrying out the investigation," Taft said.

Taft noted that the subcommittee had hired two Republican lawyers as co-counsel.

Ayer Didn't Stay on Committee

However, one of these, Frederick Ayer, Jr., quit yesterday because he said that Tyding had made it clear "he considers it unwise and not in the public interest" for Ayer to accept the appointment.

Ayer was named on recommendation of Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) a subcommittee member. Tydings later discovered that Ayer is a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general in Massachusetts.

Tydings insisted that no candidate for office ought to serve on the committee's staff. He later changed his mind after a blast from Lodge and said Ayer could stay on. Ayer decided he wouldn't.

This work should be completed by the early part of May. Work completed to date represents approximately 97% of the work under this contract. To date the contractor has been paid for work on this contract $110,924.60.

"The work being done on the North & West Treatment Plants is being done in accordance with Contracts No. 6 and No. 7 dated June 7, 1949 issued to Lippert Brothers, Inc., of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Contract No. 6 for the North Plant was for $152,125.00 and Contract No. 7 for the West Plant was for $93,235.00. Construction was started on the North Plant July 20, 1949 and on the West Plant August 16, 1949. Work done to date on Contract No. 6 represents approximately 85% completion of the work under this contract and work done to date on Contract No. 7 represents approximately 75% completion of the work under this contract. To date the contractor has been paid $113,086.01 on Contract No. 6 and $57,010.54 on Contract No. 7. It is estimated that both these plants will be ready for operation between the middle of the latter part of June.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Looking Ahead 300 Years

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Three centuries without major repairs are hoped for in the renovation of the White House. Lorenzo S. Winslow, architect in charge of the project, for which Congress appropriated $5,400,000, says: "We are rebuilding the White House with materials which we roof will, of course, be reused. Copper will also be used for gutters, leaders and downspouts. All hot and cold water lines will be red brass, while the heating, vent and waste lines will be copper

INVITATION — AND A CHALLENGE

"You never can tell till you try"—so we want you to try the 1950 Buick. And we especially want you to compare it with others. Drive any other car—then drive Buick and see what your money should buy in ride, room, handling and power.

Only Buick has Dynaflo... and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD front-end, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and maneuvering, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

RAP your fist against these stout bars—feel the gauge of the bumper stock they're made of—and you know you've got stout protection here.

But then figure: Here are nine bumper guards (not counting the two that hold the parking lights) so that's one extra item you needn't buy.

And each is individually replaceable—if damage should occur you have only a simple part or two to replace, instead of a complete, cast-metal grille.

Thus this stunning new design—freshest front-end style note on the highways—protects your pocketbook as well as your car.

Avoids costly repair bills as it avoids "locking horns" with the car ahead. Cuts upkeep as it cuts inches from the car's total length, thus making parking and garaging easier.

What you really have here is a four-way forefront. A design that sets the coming style note—avoids many a tangle with the car ahead—makes handling easier—and costs less to repair.

And note that parking-light lenses, made of plastic and set deep in recessed sockets, are well out of harm's way—even when pushing a stalled car.

You'll find this bold front end only on Buick—as you'll find Fireball power, Dynaflo Drive,* Buick's wonderful ride, and many another headline value only on these beauties.

Why not see your dealer now for the whole story—including the happy story on prices to fit practically any budget?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round RFC Dollars Backtrack Into McCarthy Pockets

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Here is more insight into the operations of Wisconsin's mercurial Senator Joe McCarthy.

In 1948, McCarthy went on a 30,000-mile tour of the country, supposedly to study the nation's housing.

A few months later, in the spring of 1949, Senator McCarthy was in need of financial aid, while Carl Strandlund, president of the Lustron Corporation of Columbus, Ohio, was in need of congressional aid.

Lustron, almost wholly financed by the federal government, was having great difficulty launching its prefabricated housing venture despite 32,000,000 RFC dollars. In fact, Lustron was having such difficulty that some Congressmen proposed an investigation.

It was about this time Senator McCarthy and Lustron-boss Strandlund developed what amounted to a mutual-aid pact. McCarthy dashed off a 7,000-word article on housing, and Strandlund paid him $10,000 for it. The article was based on material McCarthy had obtained in the course of his government-financed trip, and the rate of pay was $133 a word, which would make most authors green with jealousy.

Actually, of course, the $10,000 Strandlund paid to McCarthy was part of the RFC millions the government had advanced Strandlund.

Catholic Criticism

Significant development in the McCarthy-State Department Red hunt is the recent editorial in the Catholic Review, official organ of the Washington-Baltimore archdiocese, critical of Senator McCarthy.

Significance of the editorial lies in the fact that though McCarthy's ever-changing charges have been deplored by many lay Catholics, his original campaign was discussed and encouraged by some of the clergy at Georgetown University—acting unofficially and as individuals. He has also received vigorous support from the Brooklyn tablet and some of the former Coughlinite extremists which do not represent the church.

How much this latter support was inspired by William J. Goodwin, former Coughlinite and Christian fronter, is problematical. Goodwin is a registered lobbyist and gets $25,000 a year for promoting the cause of the Kuomintang and the Soong dynasty in Washington. Undoubtedly he has some influence with old friends of the Brooklyn tablet.

Regardless of this, lobbyist Goodwin definitely has an interesting connection with Sen. Bob Taft, and this may account for Taft's statements—which have astonished many old friends—supporting McCarthy. Goodwin occupies an office, while in Washington, with Paul Marshall, formerly a member of Taft's staff, and, during the 1948 election campaign, Goodwin was one of Taft's political workers.

Taft's Poor Judgment

Goodwin sold himself to Taft in 1948 on the idea that he could round up Catholic delegates, though actually he was a constant liability. Not realizing that Goodwin's connections with the Coughlinite extremists were not at all representative of the church, Taft sent Goodwin all over the U.S. where he represented himself as Taft's bosom pal, and made outrageous claims of political achievements.

Among other things he claimed responsibility for the 1946 election of GOP Senators Ecton in Montana and Malone in Nevada; was supposed to have brain-trusted Revercomb of West Virginia and Robertson of Wyoming; and claimed that he lined up Governor Duff of Pennsylvania for Taft, though Duff was for Dewey in the end.

Despite this, Taft has shown such poor judgment as to spend hours with lobbyist Goodwin—even today—listening to him boast of his political power inside the church and with old-line Democrats.

This explains how Taft happens to be for McCarthy's grandstanding—despite statements by Governor Dewey and GOP Senators Lodge, Flanders and Ives divorcing themselves from McCarthy's attacks. This is also why the editorial in the Catholic Review is significant at this time.

NOTE—During the original McCarthy conferences at Georgetown University, some of the clerics were emotional against Secretary Acheson for failing to send an ambassador to the Vatican, though actually it has been Truman, not Acheson, who has held back on this.

Capital News Capsules

HIDDEN NEPOTISM—The taxpayers still can't find out how much Senators are paying their employees. Though the House payroll is made public from month to month, the Senate payroll is still kept strangely secret. Secretary of the Senate Les Biffle promised to tell all in his annual report. But when it was released last week, all he listed were names, not salaries—and only up to Dec. 31, 1949. It's the taxpayers' money, and they are entitled to know how it is spent—but Mr. Biffle doesn't seem to realize this.

NEW DRUG ADDICTS—An Indian cult of drug addicts, common in the west, is now moving eastward. This is a religious cult built around the use of Peyote, a drug derived from the seed pod of cactus. The Indians chew on the drug during all-night rituals around the campfire.

Merry-Go-Round

Johnny McCone, onetime aide to Secretary of National Defense Forrestal, has been asked to become undersecretary of air. . . . The Potomac Edison Company is now spreading its propaganda against public power, appropriately, through the Fertilizer News. . . . General MacArthur has urged the Defense Department to support Secretary Acheson's plan to offer surplus American wheat to the Chinese people. Acheson figures the Chinese Communists wouldn't dare accept it and that this would hurt Moscow and boost the prestige of the U.S.A. . . . Ambassador Wiley has called the State Department that the new prime minister of Iran may be a Russian stooge and must be watched closely.

Baruch Proposal to Mobilize For Cold War Has Much Merit

By Bruce Blomatt

There's good reason to approve Bernard M. Baruch's proposal for a "general staff" for peace to stay vigilantly on the job until the cold war is won.

As Baruch sees such a staff, it would deal continuously with the whole range of peace problems. It would serve as a "central point of decision, weighing all the many commitments pressed upon us, guiding the best disposition of our strained resources, determining where we can achieve a decisive breakthrough—and at what effort."

This looks wise, for one thing, because it might help us Americans face the realities of these difficult times. Baruch points that out: "Although the cold war is now dragging into its sixth year and despite the enormous resources we have expended, we still have not faced up to what total peace waging requires."

This plainly may mean more than just a wiser channeling of resources into the various cold war theaters, important as that is. To keep pace with Russia may call for far heavier sacrifices than we have yet made or shown any inclination to make.

In a conflict that is perhaps more dangerous than any hot war we ever fought, there may be no place for the sort of pleasant, even occasionally luxurious living Americans are now enjoying.

For example, many critics have charged that our defenses may actually be somewhat below the minimum safety mark. Whether or not this is true, it is clear the Administration is trying to strike a perilous balance between giving us minimum protection and allowing us to keep on doing very good business as usual.

Naturally a demand for greater sacrifices would be politically unpopular. But we're playing with fire if it is political timidity rather than a sound appraisal of realities that dictates our present policies.

A GHQ for peace, set up as Baruch conceives it, would have the power to wage the cold war on a unified, global basis. With that broad outlook, it would be well equipped to know whether we were at any moment playing with fire by wasting our resources or not expending them fully enough in the right ways.

No sensible person wants to saddle our civilian economy with crushing burdens that throttle our peacetime growth and progress. Indeed, if we erred too heavily in that direction we might play right into the Russians' hands. But neither must we endanger the survival of our freedoms by coasting along agreeably while the Communists build up an overpowering advantage over us.

The delicate judgments that must be made to keep us on course, with neither too much nor too little given to this tense struggle, seem a fitting responsibility for a group of our highest caliber men. As a general staff for peace, they could keep us all courageously alert to the hard tasks of a cold war.

At the same time they would have to serve as watchful guardians of our peacetime liberties and, too, as energetic promoters of the nation's economic progress.

• So They Say

The basic principle of civil defense is self-help. If atomic war comes, it is the cities and states that must be fundamentally responsible for civil defense. — Chairman Brien McMahon of the joint congressional atomic energy committee.

Make no mistake about it, the chips are down. Winning this struggle is as vital to the peace and prosperity of the world as any military campaign in history. — Gen. George C. Marshall, on European recovery.

In its present powerless and defenseless position, Europe will always be a danger to the world. The European Council must become a European parliament that holds real power and leadership. — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Western Germany.

I still believe that some defense of Alaska is so important that it should be considered above the others, both in time and in importance. — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

If anybody had sworn that I have been or am a member of the Communist party he is a perjurer. He should be prosecuted to the limit of the law. — Prof. Owen Lattimore, answering charges of Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

The best umpire I ever saw was laid out in a box. — Jack Onslow, manager of the Chicago White Sox baseball club.

TOUCHY PEOPLE AND UNSURE PEOPLE

Yesterday we began our meditations on negativisms and inferiority attitudes, and we saw that some assert themselves most when they are least sure of themselves. I know of a man who, feeling inferior to his wife, asserts his superiority by insisting on buying her clothes and telling her what to wear—to his wife's dismay! He insists on bossing her outer life, for he feels inferior before her mental and spiritual life.

Sometimes there is an alternation between aggressive attitudes and periods of discouragement and self-depreciation. This cycloid behavior results in moodiness. Such a person ranges in temperament from very high mountains to very low valleys. But often the attitudes of retreat and defeat result not in mood depression, but in the "tic" Professor David Eitzen says, "Slamming the door, walking rapidly, stamping the floor, arguing with one's associates, spanking the children—these are manifestations of a difficulty not faced and intelligently approached." Whether manifested as moodiness and sulkeness or as an outburst of temper with surroundings or with others, the difficulty is the same sense of inward inferiority. The man is out of sorts with himself; so he vents his ill-humor on his surroundings. He creates outer earthquakes usually in order to hide his own inner soul-quakes. Just as bodily shivers are an attempt of nature to bring up one's temperature when it has fallen below par, so these shakes of temper are a psychological attempt to bring up the temperature of the inner self! The man is inwardly slipping; so he takes to outer shouting. This is the law of overcompensation at work. Touchy people are unsure people. They are looking for slights, for they have a subconscious feeling that they deserve them. You can tell the size of a man by the size of the things that upset him. Not long ago I received a special-delivery letter from a woman asking me to come a rather long journey to see her, for she was afraid she was going to have a total breakdown. Cause? Her plans for Christmas had been upset!

O God, I come to Thee to find power to be really strong. Save me from these make-believe strengths that leave me weak. I want to be the kind of person nothing without can upset. For Thy strength can this happen. I expose myself to Thy true strength. In Jesus' name. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

Presence of Dropsy Signals Serious Condition Elsewhere

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Dropsy is a condition in which fluids which should have been eliminated accumulate in the body and cause swelling. The medical term for dropsy is edema. Dropsy while not of itself a disease is usually a sign of some serious underlying condition.

One of the most common causes of dropsy is failure of the heart to pump as well as it should. The normally-acting heart pumps the blood through the blood vessels at a fairly even rate. The blood which flows through the kidneys is treated by these organs so that fluids which should not be kept in the body are eliminated. If, however, the heart is not working well, the blood will pass too slowly through the kidneys and too much fluid is kept in the body.

This causes swelling. The most common place for this swelling to appear is in the feet and ankles because these are held down a good deal of the time and the force of gravity aids in the deposit of fluids in these regions.

One of the treatments for dropsy of the feet caused by heart disease is bed rest so that gravity will not work to aid the deposit of fluid there. Of course, the heart itself must also be treated. Rest is good for this organ also since the heart does not have to work so hard when the rest of the body is not exerting. Many forms of heart disease can bring about this type of heart weakness and it is not peculiar to any one type.

There are other conditions which may lead to dropsy. One of the most important is damage to the kidneys themselves. If they fail to remove the fluid and other undesirable material from the blood, dropsy may result. In fact, one of the most severe forms of dropsy is that which comes in Bright's disease, or nephritis,

How Not to Solve the Farm Problem

Distant Star

BY HERMANA BLACK

THE STORY: Clemency Horton, surgery governess to Baby, small daughter of Jon and Syrie Amherley, had been told politely by Syrie to keep away from Piers Amherley, Jon's brother, at whose luxurious home in Alstera the Amherleys live. But Clemency, involved in the family's domestic affairs and she to happen to be allowed at last to take a day off in Alstera with the Sandersons, a British-Canadian family. Now Piers is ready to take Clemency home.

XIV
WHEN they started off a few minutes later the stars were right and Clemency's quickened heartbeats toned down to the peace which seemed to have fallen over everything.

The town through which they had to pass again, lay glimmering beneath the stars.

The street was narrow, and she judged that it was near the spot where Hamish had spoken to her that morning. They were approaching a small, brilliantly lighted cafe, where under the gay awnings the tables were filled with a cosmopolitan crowd. As they drew nearer, a sudden hubbub tumbled up inside the cafe and died again as three men in European civilian clothes came out, two of them half laughingly trying to persuade their companion to go along with them, but he was obviously very drunk.

At that moment an Arab, strolling across the road in the casual way of his kind, almost walked in front of the car, forcing Piers to brake sharply; and Clemency found herself looking straight into the flushed face of the man at the wheel. After an instant's startled amazement she recognized Jon Amherley.

She bit back an exclamation as he drove on. Had Piers seen a brother? If so, it seemed obvious that he wanted to ignore the encounter. Then as they slipped into the shadows he stopped the car, and without a word opened the door beside him and got out.

"Jules—"
"M'sieur?"

Jules had already joined his employer, and the two men moved a little away from the car.

Piers' voice came back to Clemency, the tone but not the words, curt and incisive. Jules answered in quick monosyllables, and presently went striding back towards the cafe, while his employer got into the car again and drove on.

"Jules is going to spend the night in Alstera," he said.

Resentment against Jon stirred in her. How could he behave like that? Everyone in Alstera must know who he was—how could he let himself and his brother down in such a way? Suddenly things she had not understood and had not let herself think about, feeling they were none of her business, began to drop into place. Jon's moodiness—his excitability, the black depression she had sometimes noticed. His strangeness that first night. Syrie's evident contempt for her husband. Perhaps there was something to be said for Syrie after all.

And then suddenly the soft hum of the car's engine was smothered by a report which made her nearly start out of her seat and sent the car into a skidding spin.

ONLY the driver's strong wrists and presence of mind could have righted it and brought it to a safe halt about a foot from a solitary palm tree, impact with which would have meant something too ugly to contemplate.

"Are you all right?" Piers looked at the girl beside him, realizing that she had not uttered a sound where nine women out of 10 would have screamed their lungs out, probably have clutched his arm and overturned them.

"Yes, I am all right, thank you." "That was a darned back tire," he said savagely. "These roads really are fendish."

"So I—gather." The sound of her own voice did something the blow out had failed to do. She began to laugh hysterically.

"Now!" he warned sharply. "I've got some brandy somewhere—you'll be better when you have had some."

He reached into the pocket beside him and brought out a silver flask and a collapsible drinking cup. He poured a generous measure of brandy.

But the hand she obediently stretched out was shaking too much to be trusted. He put an arm about her shoulders, and steadying her against him, held the cup to her lips. She swallowed and choked as the burning liquid ran down her throat.

"That's better." He tossed away the last few drops, and put back the cup on the seat beside him, still keeping hold of her. "You can hold now if you want to."

"I don't," she said weakly. "Then keep quiet for a minute."

IT seemed perfectly natural to obey him. She closed her eyes, aware of the hard firmness of his shoulder behind her head, of the strength of his arms around her.

The moon was rising and by its light he looked down at her, watching the color steal back into her face—noting subconsciously the shadows her lowered lashes threw on her cheeks.

Lovely, desirable, made to be loved. . . .

He straightened abruptly, taking his arm from about her, breaking the spell before it was too strong to resist.

"Better now? FEEL up and look into the matter of that tire."

For a long moment Clemency remained where he had left her, while he fixed the blow-out. Half frightened, she strove vehemently to deny that shaken flame in her blood.

Death was not a thing one wanted to contemplate at the best of times, and she was much too young to be a stoic. Least of all death seemed desirable when one had just discovered how terribly sweet it could be to live.

But that knowledge was away in the back of her mind, where she would keep it safely locked. If she could.

Pampering Your Husband May Make Him Forget Your Rival

Writes a seeing-eye wife: "A young divorcee in our neighborhood is making an utter fool out of my husband.

"She has used every trick in the book to gain his sympathy and enlist his help in her personal and business affairs. She often manages to head for the bus stop just as he is driving to work. She gets him to make some small repair for her—then offers him a drink, etc. But why go on—the tricks are as old as time, and seemingly as endless.

"How can I make him see that she isn't the poor, helpless little thing she pretends to be, but an experienced woman who is enjoying her conquest and probably thinking what a fool I am not to see what is going on?"

county physician and surgeon, was in the city on business.

"The Singin' Skule Regiment" presented at the Sedalia Theatre Tuesday night for the benefit of the Bible school of the First Christian church was a distinct success. The amateur production had as participants numerous members of that church and others demonstrating much ability.

Among improvements proposed by Mayor J. W. Mellor is the building of a viaduct across the Missouri Pacific and M. K. & T. railway tracks at Washington avenue.

You can't open his eyes, Mrs. C. Because when a man is being made a fool of by a woman it is because he is enjoying it. He doesn't want to see the woman as she is and if you try to show him what she is up to, you'll probably be accused of being a jealous wife.

Furthermore, your husband would probably jump to the woman's defense—and you wouldn't like that.

Ignore The Whole Thing

So just go on about your own life—and sit out this episode without comment.

It will pass, make no mistake about it. Women who enjoy making a fool of a man are easily bored with success.

One of these days—if you refuse to let this business affect your marriage—this woman will decide that she has proved herself irresistible, has done what damage she can do, and will move on to greener pastures.

When she does your husband may feel a trifle foolish. But don't expect him to admit it. And don't even hope it will teach him a lasting lesson. He'll probably be an easy mark for the next woman who sets out to make him feel like a big, strong, wonderful man.

By the way, have you tried to make him feel like that yourself lately? (All rights reserved, EA Service, Inc.)

Estimate Too Low on Deficit

Since January Tax Collections Been Disappointing

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The experts who advise Congress on taxes figured Tuesday President Truman guessed $1,200,000,000 too low in estimating this year's government deficit.

They calculated that the treasury will find itself $6,700,000,000 in the red by June 30, end of the 1950 fiscal year, instead of $5,500,000,000 as Mr. Truman estimated in his January budget message.

By their appraisal, the government seems to be suffering from a case of limping revenues which do not appear to have hampered its spending arm.

The deficit thus far in fiscal '50 stood at $1,888,785,525.79 last Friday, and was headed up. The total national debt that same day was $255,483,825,162.40. That is about $1,703 a person on a basis of a 150,000,000 population. A $6,700,000,000 deficit amounts to $44.67 apiece on the same basis.

Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the joint senate-house committee on internal revenue taxation, presented a new fiscal forecast prepared by the committee's "taxperts."

The committee's formal report said the staff took account of "the disappointing collections, especially from individual income tax, since January of this year."

Look to 1951 Fiscal Year

Looking ahead to the 1951 fiscal year which starts next July 1, George said the staff figured the government would go $7,300,000,000 into the red in that twelve months. President Truman estimated the '51 deficit at $5,100,000,000 and predicted that the country would be "moving toward budgetary balance in the next few years."

George commented that in past estimates the committee staff has "not missed the mark greatly."

The staff's estimates were based on an assumed national income of $221,000,000,000 in calendar 1950, dropping to $207,000,000,000 in the first six months of 1951.

"The level of business activity assumed by the staff was arrived at after consultation with a number of outstanding economic analysts, both in private industry and in the government," the report said.

The staff based its spending calculations on the same outlay figures Mr. Truman used in January.

Thus its estimate disregarded any cuts—or additions—Congress may apply to its appropriations, or any possible changes in the tax laws.

The chance for a cut in excise taxes this year was beginning to look pretty dim. There is no lack of enthusiasm among the lawmakers for cutting back or abolishing some of these federal sales levies, but Mr. Truman has served notice he is prepared to veto any excise cut that doesn't provide for making up the revenue somewhere else.

Acquitted of Murder But Gets a $50 Fine

MAYNARDVILLE, Tenn., April 19.—(P)—A circuit court jury took only four minutes Monday to acquit 33-year-old Carl Graves of the murder of his brother.

But Judge George Shepherd fined Carl $50 and sentenced him to 30 days in jail for carrying a pistol.

Barnett Destroyed 70 Years Ago by a Cyclone

The 10th day of April, 1880 will long be remembered in this community, when the small town of Barnettville, Mo., was completely destroyed by a cyclone which left death and destruction in its path, killing eleven people and injuring many. It occurred on Sunday afternoon about 4 p.m. and cut a path one mile wide and several miles long. It first hit near Marshfield, Mo., destroying that town and followed the direction of southwest to northeast. It seemed to rise after leaving Marshfield and dipped again near the Big Gravois. It was accompanied by heavy rainfall and hail as large as heneggs which entirely covered the ground in places.

Barnettville which was located one mile north of the present town of Barnett, was named for the son of Barnett Lusk, whose name was Barnett Lusk, Jr. He passed away in early manhood. Mr. Lusk operated the first store in this town and named it in honor of his son. At the time of the cyclone the business places consisted of two stores and a blacksmith shop, also several residences. Mr. Nininger and Archie Campbell operated the stores and Marion McClain the blacksmith shop.

Those killed were Archie Campbell, Dan and Shores Hunter, Rube Routon, Mr. and Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Gordon Green and two children, Leonia Catherine and an infant son. Two of the names of the dead could not be learned. The injured were cared for in the homes of Dr. R. M. Hargett, James Yows, Daniel M. Inghis, Wm Beard and Sampson Phillips.

Among those seriously injured were, Mr. and Mrs. Marion McClain and four children, Anna, Beulah, Daisy, and Charles. Beulah, now known as Mrs. Geeb Cochran, is the only member of the family remaining in our community. Dick Willis, Dr. Joe Bills, James B. Routon and no doubt many others whose names we were unable to obtain.

The homes destroyed and wrecked were Elihu Bandy, Joe T. Routon, Jack Kelly, Gordon Green, A. B. Brock, Chas Tompkins, Archie Campbell, Marion McClain, Mr. Nininger, Dr. Joe Bills, Tom Cotten, Mr. McKinney, James Nall, Emery Freeman, Israel Burkhardt, Riley Milbourn and John Goodman, Sr.

Many freakish incidents were reported:

A coat of John C. Phillips, who was at the McKinney home during the storm, was found in Boone County and identified by a letter in the pocket and returned to him. Horses and cattle were found with rails and timbers through them, wheat straw was driven in fence posts and chickens were picked of all their feathers. The floors of the store buildings were left and brick from the flues went through them as clean as a bullet would. Yards or dress material, lace and embroidery were scattered over the 40 Acres south of the Waid Miller home, then owned by A. B. Brock. At the John Goodman home, now owned by Dwight Jones, all escaped to the cellar except one daughter, Nancy, mother of Mrs. H. D. Gunn, who was blown into the orchard and escaped unhurt. A rock from the cellar steps was lifted by the wind and fell on Mrs. Goodman's foot, removing her slipper. Two men failed to lift this rock.

In 1901 the Rock Island railroad was built one mile south of Barnettville and the town was moved to the present site. The name was then changed to Barnett. Several other storms have hit near here killing a few persons but none are remembered so plainly as the one which occurred 70 years ago the 18th of April. No doubt many other incidents happened that the writer failed to hear. This information was gathered from persons still living who witnessed this cyclone and were then in their early teens.

Kills Wife Rather Than Look for Job

TACOMA, Wash., April 19.—A youthful Tacoma husband admitted in a signed statement to police Tuesday that he killed his wife rather than get up early and look for a job.

But first he smashed the alarm clock she had been winding to be certain he got up early.

Detective Robert Stitsworth said that Thomas E. Spahr, 20, was the man who admitted firing the fatal shot at 1:05 a. m. His victim was 17-year-old Margaret Spahr.

Spahr's statement said he and his wife argued frequently over his inability to find a steady job since they were married last year.

New Skyscraper Boom

NEW YORK.—(P)—Construction of new office buildings being completed in New York this year rivals "several of the most fabulous years in the history of skyscrapers," says Lee Thompson Smith of the Home Title Guaranty Co. in the firm's monthly bulletin.

"This year, with 4,208,000 square feet of new office space being placed on the rental market, Smith says, "is way above 1925's 1,474,700 and 1927's 1,185,700. It is just one building away from the 1929 mark of 4,817,000, right on the heels of 1928's 4,362,800, and makes a good showing against 1929's 5,324,900."

He reports that rents in the new buildings range close to $7 per square foot.

Fire Companies Called

The fire companies were called out to Limit avenue and Eleventh street at 7:38 o'clock Tuesday night where a transformer had "gone out" and caused a slight blaze. There was no damage. During the time repairs were underway the street lights in the downtown area were out.

Men's Choral Club Concert

Presented at the Hubbard High School Tuesday

The Sedalia Men's Choral club under the directorship of Abe Rosenthal and with accompanist Miss Lillian Fox presented a full concert at the C. C. Hubbard high school Tuesday night. The entire program consisting of religious, secular and spiritual numbers was exceedingly well received by the three hundred people that filled the auditorium.

Prof. J. B. Hylick, principal of the school introduced the Rev. H. U. Campbell, who in turn introduced the club and its director.

The club in its usual superb form gave forth with many of its old stand bys such as "Song of the Jolly Rogers", Mallott's "Lord's Prayer".

In the first portion of the concert the club's accompanist, Miss Fox played Wagner's "Song to an Evening Star". The solo was wildly acclaimed.

In the intermission period a quartet composed of Paul Ginn, Aubrey Case, Carl Yessen and Ralph Hodges sang two numbers, "Coney Island Baby" and "Talk About Jerusalem Morning". The four were called back for an encore of "Story of the Tack".

The club sang other selections such as: "Sweet and Low", "My Wild Irish Rose", and the excellent Fred Waring arrangement of "You'll Never Walk Alone", "Let My People Go" and "Song of the Merry Men". This last selection was sung to the lyrics written by the club member, G. Patrick Darnall. The program was closed with the club's traditional cinder, "Battle Hymn of the Republic". The Battle Hymn with all its forcefulness and rhythm brought the concert to a close.

Prof. Hylick said afterward that the concert was attended by people from Warrensburg, Marshall, Ottumwa, Syracuse, Concordia and as far as Jefferson City.

The money taken in the free will offering will go into a fund of the Hubbard P.T.A. to purchase a movie projector. Hylick added that he hoped the Choral club's presence in Hubbard could be an annual affair. He said he was very much pleased with the concert. The audience was responsive throughout the concert and at no time did they lack approval.

New U. S. Housing Bill Promises Help For Some Ex-GI's and Vets' Widows

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Approximately 13,000,000 World War II veterans who have not yet used any of their GI loan benefits, and an estimated 175,000 unmarried widows of World War II vets, have a brand new housing outlook.

The new U. S. housing act, just passed by congress, greatly liberalizes the home loan provisions of the GI Bill of Rights and, for the first time, gives the unmarried widows a GI bill benefit. It doesn't make any difference whether a veteran was killed during the war, in action, or died a natural death since the war. If he could have qualified for GI rights, his widow now can get a home on the same terms as any veteran.

With a few exceptions, the new law does not apply to any veteran who has already used any part of his GI loan benefits. If a vet lost his GI home as a result of government condemnation, by fire or "other compelling reasons not the fault of the veteran," the Administrator of Veterans Affairs may make him eligible under the new measure.

The VA Administrator also has the authority to rule on whether or not a vet who has used only a fraction of his loan guarantee will be eligible for the liberalized provisions. Although the final word on this won't be given for some time, the unofficial opinion

They reason that the liberalized provisions make it less desirable than the loans that will soon become available. Deliver Paper by Low Flying Plane

CARTHAGE, Mo., April 19.—The Carthage Evening Press is being delivered by low-flying airplane to about 100 individual homes in rural areas.

In January, 1947, Lee Hooker, circulation manager of the Press, arranged to make bundle drops by air to the nearby towns of Diamond, Jasper, Sarcoxie and Avila. Carriers picked up the bundles and delivered papers to subscribers.

The success of this service led to the idea of individual house deliveries in rural areas. The individual service was started last April and in June and July the paper was going to 215 homes.

Walt Disney is credited with having produced the first movie cartoon, "Steamboat Willie," in 1928.

It's Barnyard gossip...

By A. B. WARREN

BOVINE MASTITIS

In this section where the dairy herd plays a prominent part, mastitis or garget is an every day problem. This disease causes a terrific loss from decreased production and from poor quality milk. Many times it exists in a chronic form and is hard to detect except through a flare-up when the cow's udder becomes swollen and red, the milk is generally stringy.

This disease, in most cases, can be successfully treated with Aureomycin Ointment or Penicillin either in ointment or bougies (sticks) by the farmer with very little expense or trouble. If you are interested just ask for literature... it's free!

George H. Bagby

George Henry Bagby, 82 years of age, a well known resident of the Camp Branch neighborhood, died at the Bothwell hospital at 2:55 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. He had been ill and a patient at the hospital for about ten days, but Monday was thought to be better. His death came unexpectedly.

He was born on December 20, 1868 on the same farm on which he lived at the time of his death, located near Camp Branch southwest of Sedalia. He was the son of D. A. and Susan Bagby.

On October 21, 1896 he married Miss Carrie Wilson at her home, just five miles from the Bagby home.

To this union were born three sons: Julian H. Bagby, of Sedalia, manager of Beatrice Foods Co., and owner and manager of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company in this city, Omer Bagby, who died April 1, 1941 and George W. Bagby of Marshall, well known hatchery man. The widow and two sons survive, also a granddaughter, Mary Gay Bagby, of Kansas City.

tion operated by the ticket agent. "It was from this signal that the common use 'high ball' was originated. The ball would be pulled upward to give the train the signal to proceed. From that to the hand operated semaphore system, then to the electrical signals of semaphore and then to lights.

General Traffic Control
"The light system has been developed into a central traffic control system which controls the traffic over an entire division if necessary. In many cases the CTC system controls the movement of trains over a stretch of 100 miles or more.

"Highway crossing signals are a part of the system. Highway signals are to inform highway traffic a train is approaching and people approaching should pay strict attention to these signals. They can mean life or death.

"Here in Sedalia, improvement in the highway signals will be made soon. Warning gates in addition to the warning signals. These gates will drop across the street or highway. They are to be installed at Ohio and Kentucky avenues."

Obedience Signals
In closing Mr. Kettleson said: "When driving your motor car and approaching a crossing watch for the lights. Obey their red danger signals and be sure to be cautious at a crossing where only the 'cross-buck' sign, or crossing warning stands beside the railroad track."

Mr. Kettleson was introduced by Chairman Bernard Stanfield. Guests today were Dick Snow of Herbert E. Hall; Bert Sunny of Brunswick, guest of Fred Handley and R. A. Stafford of St. Joseph with Dr. F. I. Lawrence. David Routsong was introduced as the father of a daughter, born recently.

Order Cut In Mail Services

the appropriations committee anticipates a postal operating deficit again next year even if pending legislation hiking postal rates is passed.

The committee suggested that the department effect some savings by reducing the number of mail deliveries in residential areas "wherever possible."

Some congested residential areas might not be able to get by on one delivery a day, the committee said. These have been getting two or three a day.

However, Donaldson made no exception in laying down the one-a-day limitation. He went further and said that mixed areas including shops and residences shall not be classed as business districts for more frequent service.

Two Deliveries To Business
On Saturday's business areas which have been getting three deliveries a day are hereafter to get only two. Those business areas which have been getting two on Saturday will get but one.

Also, only first class mail, newspapers and parcel post will be processed during the night hours, in order to cut down on payroll costs. Night time pickups of mail from street boxes are to be sharply curtailed. Postoffice window services are to close not later than 6 p. m., and by 5 p. m. if possible.

Donaldson said further reductions in personnel are in the offing.

His order brought a prompt protest from the AFL Association of Letter Carriers, which called it "a rape of the postal service" and said it would protest to Congress.

Junior C of C to Meet Thursday
The next meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock, Thursday night in the assembly room of the court house.

Nominations placed at the last meeting are as follows: President—Hal Bamberg, Bob Wall, Charles Wendt, Steve Fechter; first vice-president, Jimmy Glenn, Frank Evans; second vice-president, Andy Anderson, Jim Durlley, Milton Barnes; secretary, Bert Hathaway, Jim Van Wagner; treasurer, Bob Younger, Bill Wilson, John Allison; board members—Harold Lehmer, Jerry Trotter, Joe Potts, Mike Bogutski, Russell Holman, and James Harms.

Bugs Can be Beautiful Preserved in Plastic

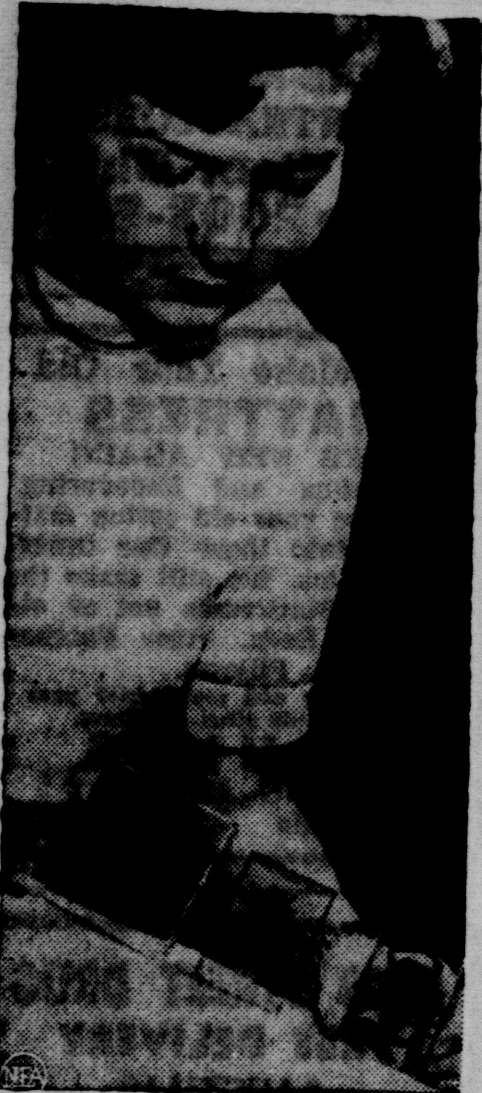

By NEA Service

ATLANTA, Ga. (NEA)—The Communicable Disease Center of the U. S. Public Health Service in Atlanta has developed a new idea for teaching biology. Well, almost new. It's only a little more than 50,000,000 years old.

It employs the same principle nature used, back in the good old days of the Oligocene Age, when bugs and spiders frequently became entangled in fresh, soft resin along the Baltic coast of eastern Germany. Gradually the material hardened and fossilized into amber. The insects entrapped were preserved intact.

When modern man cuts into nature's deposit of amber, he finds bugs as realistic as a roach on the kitchen floor.

Customarily, insect specimens

for study or display are stuck on a pin. Everybody who's ever visited a museum has seen them.

Medical entomologists at the Communicable Disease Center found that the bug-on-a-pin method was hardly satisfactory. They teach scores of laboratory technicians from state health departments in every section of the country, and with much handling, Mr. Insect's wings, legs, and tail-light are apt to drop off.

So they took the hint of nature. Many earlier attempts had been made to embed biological specimens in synthetic resins, but with indifferent success. Recently, however, commercial manufacturers have developed several new synthetic compounds which have the advantages of ancient resin.

Using these new materials, Public Health Service entomologists preserve in plastic such specimens as spiders, scorpions, centipedes,

Grand Jury Resumes Crime Probe

(NEA Telephoto) With the unsolved slayings of political boss Charles Binaggio and his hoodlum henchman, Charles Gargotta, on top of the list of business, the special federal grand jury requested by President Truman to investigate Kansas City crime, resumed its inquiries. mosquitos, ticks, even mice.

The specimens are easy to use and store, and they retain their colors and shapes. There's one other advantage, too. Most of the students are girls. They get the creeps when they have to handle dead mice, scorpions, and other repulsive creatures.

But with a thick armor of plastic between them and the bugs, the girls don't mind the work at all.

British Still Plant Rubber

SINGAPORE — (AP) — British planters are still coming forward to serve on Malayan rubber estates despite nearly two years of terrorism. "We have been able to maintain a steady supply of young men of the right stuff who will eventually form the backbone of the industry," said E. C. Martin, vice-chairman of Sima Darby and company, rubber estate agents.

Captain Samuel Nicholas, first continental Marine officer, in 1775 instructed recruiting officers to accept no candidates for the Marine Corps except those "of dependable and religious nature combined with proper robustness of body."

Edison Had Early Radio Patent
NEW YORK—(AP)—The records indicate that what might be termed the "first radio broadcasting patent" in this country was issued to Thomas A. Edison on Dec. 29, 1871.

His application, granted as patent No. 465, 971, said: "Signaling between distant points can be carried on by induction without the use of wires connecting such distant points." This is an apt description of today's method of radio transmission.

Matmen Clash In Sedalia Ring Tonight

Sonny Meyers And Lee Henning to Meet in Big Event

Wrestling Schedule

Main Event
Lee Henning vs. Sonny Meyers
Buffalo, N. Y. vs. St. Joseph, Mo.
3 falls out of 3, 90-minute time limit.
Semi-Windup
Mayes McLain vs. Roy "Cowboy" Graham
Lawrence, Kas. vs. Dallas, Texas
3 falls out of 3, 45-minute time limit.
Opening Event
Walter Siros vs. Ellis Bashara
Montreal, Canada vs. Houston, Tex.
One fall with a 30-minute time limit.

Place: National Guard Armory.
Time: 8:30 P. M. Wednesday.
Referee: Jack Hader, Kansas City.

They will be at it again tonight in the ring at the National Guard armory when three wrestling matches will be held under the auspices of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion. Three events are scheduled on the program.

Opening the mat entertainment tonight will be a match between Ellis Bashara, Houston, Texas, an expert on Texas rules who will clash with Walter Siros of Montreal, Canada. Siros had a tough break last week when he lost his match after he practically had it won. He'll be out tonight to redeem himself and gain a point on a climb to the "top spot" on wrestling cards in this area.

The semi-windup event will bring together Roy "Cowboy" Graham of Dallas, Texas, one of the toughest of tough boys of the mat to meet Mayes McLain of Lawrence, Kansas. McLain a real athlete is expected to be one of the boys to give Graham a fight of his life tonight. McLain despises rough wrestling but he is well qualified to take care of himself and dish it up.

Needs No Introduction
Graham needs no introduction to Sedalia fans. He's been in and out of this territory many times in the past several seasons. Each time he comes he makes more people angry and he is one of the biggest headaches a referee can have in the ring.

The big or main event brings together two giants. Sonny Meyers of St. Joseph, Mo., who is clashing with Lee Henning of Buffalo, N. Y., has been taking an interest in Henning. He has watched him every chance he had to learn his tricks and tonight will be a test of what he has learned.

Both men won their matches last week. Both intend to win tonight. Both are liable to pull anything in the ring to win the event to gain or keep the spotlight on the local card.

The matches tonight will be the last for April. Next week the Legion is sponsoring a carnival west of town and Promoter Christy and the Legion wrestling committee felt it advisable to cancel next week's card and resume the weekly events on Wednesday night, May 3.

Games May Be Decided Over The Balk Ruling

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—The balk may have as much to do with deciding ball games this summer as the home run. Anyway, it'll be baseball's most controversial topic.

Due to the strict enforcement of the rule, which calls for a pitcher to pause for one second during his stretch with runners on base, balks are apt to become a regular warm weather diet.

There were five called in yesterday's major league openers. Umpire Ralph Pinelli called two against rookie pitcher Pat McGlothlin of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

McGlothlin said the first was definitely a balk but the second—"doubtful."

At Cincinnati, Johnny Schmitz and Veteran Dutch Leonard (Tsk! Tsk!) were caught by Ump Bill Stewart.

Stewart, who should know, said they were "not a question of stopping."

"On the first," he explained "it was an illegal motion toward first. On the other, Schmitz dropped his hands twice."

Umpire Lee Ballanfant called one against Kirby Higbe of the New York Giants.

Not a single balk was called in the eight 1949 openers.

19 Tourneys For Pro Golfers This Summer

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association—proclaiming that "harmony and understanding" exist between the front office and its playing stars—has arranged a summer program of 19 tournaments carrying $335,000 in prizes.

President Joe Novak said three week-ends still are unfilled in the potential record-breaking summer slate. If they are filled, he said, 1950 will be the PGA's greatest money-posted year—a prize aggregate of more than $530,000 anticipated for combined winter, spring and summer competition.

Summary of 1950 Baseball Openers for Major Leagues

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
(NY) Same old Boston Red Sox, left at the post again by the 1950 model of Casey Stengel's New York Yankees "team of destiny." Old Case, reigning miracle man of baseball, has done it again. The Yanks are off a-winging on the strength of a throbbing 15-10 opening day victory yesterday at Fenway Park.

They did it the hard way, overcoming an early 9-0 Boston lead and winning with nine runs in a shocking eighth-inning revolution. Just like 1949.

Brooks Flopped

Boston, overwhelming favorite to cop the American League pennant and dethrone the World Champion Yanks, had company. Brooklyn's National League champs also flopped. They fell before the youthful Philadelphia Phils, 9-1. Don Newcombe, pitching ace of the favored Brooks, was knocked from the box in the second inning before 29,074.

All in all, attendance at the eight-game opening show was fine. Of course, there was the added impetus of the first night opener in history—at St. Louis—which added 20,871 to the total. The openers drew 252,700 as compared to 257,459 for a nine-game, two-day program last year.

Big Cleveland Crowd

Cleveland drew the best crowd, 65,744. The turnouts ranged all the way down to 9,987 at Chicago where the youthful St. Louis Browns and White Sox were a doubtful lure.

Getting back to Boston where the real fireworks exploded, the Red Sox harbored real hopes of blasting their getaway jinx. Instead they lost their third straight opener. Their 21-game carryover win streak at Fenway Park is smashed.

It started like an easy ride for Mel Parnell, 25-game winner of last year. Boston knocked out Allie Reynolds, the Yanks' No. 1 boy, opening up a wide early lead. Nobody worried when Parnell yielded four runs in the sixth. Boston made it 10-4 going to the eighth.

Just To Make Sure

Then it happened. Fourteen Yanks went to bat in the inning. After Parnell it was Walt Masterson, Earl Johnson, Al Papai and finally Charley Schanz. When it was over, the Yanks had scored nine runs for a 13-10 lead. Just to make it sure, they added two in the ninth off Boo Ferriss.

Detroit spoiled the day for Cleveland's fine opening turnout by edging the Indians, 7-6, in 10 innings. The Tigers knocked Bob Lemon out of the box in the eighth and went on to win. Their last four runs were unearned.

President Truman Threw

The first ball at Washington where the Senators knocked off the Philadelphia A's, 8-7, before 31,548. Bucky Harris' lightly-regarded Senators knocked out Carl Scheib before he retired a batter.

Browns Beat Chisox

Rookie outfielder Ken Wood and pitcher Ned Garver teamed up to lead the St. Louis Browns to a 5-3 win over Chicago. Wood drove in three runs with two doubles while Garver scattered 10 Chicago hits.

Newcombe had nothing but size at Shibe park where the youthful Phillies humbled Brooklyn behind Robin Roberts' seven hit work-out. Rookie second baseman Mike Goliat broke in with a perfect four-hit day Eddie Waitkus and Gran Hamner each added three hits. It was Waitkus' first league game since he was shot at Chicago last June.

Victory To Cards

In the first night opener at St. Louis, home runs by Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial sent the Cardinals off to a flying start with a 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh.

The battle of the big trade—New York Giants vs. Boston Braves at the Polo Grounds—wound up in an 11-4 decision for Boston. Actually the key men in the most important winter trade were not important factors.

Eddie Stankey and Al Dark, the two ex-Braves, were in the Giant lineup. Sid Gordon, Buddy Kerr and Willard Marshall, all former Giants, started for Boston.

Lefty Joe Page, crack Yankee relief pitcher, picked up where he left off in the final game of the 1949 world series. Page retired the Red Sox in order in the eighth and ninth innings to preserve the Yank victory. The great lefthander fanned three Dodgers to end the world series.

Cards' Homers Beat Pirates By 4-2 Score

First Night Opener In History Only Drew 20,871 Fans

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals rewarded a chilled, damp crowd of 20,871 with a triumph last night in launching their 63rd season with the first night opener in major league history.

And the Browns got off to a good start with a victory in Chicago.

The largest crowd ever to attend a Cardinal opener in St. Louis saw the Birds down Pittsburgh 4-2. Red Schoendienst and prize outfielder Stan Musial contributed home runs.

Gerald Staley pitched the entire game and turned in a six-hit performance for the team picked as the second most likely to succeed this year in the National League.

Minutes after Mayor Joseph M. Darst threw out the first ball, Schoendienst smacked the ball to the right field roof—a surprising blow since he hit only three homers all last season. Musial hit his in the third.

Tied up in Sixth

Staley gave up only two hits in the first five innings. Then in the sixth the Pirates tied it up, ex-Cardinal Johnny Hopp driving in both counters with a single.

Catcher Joe Garagiola put the Cards back in front with a timely single in the sixth, one of three he had for the night. Enos Slaughter drove in the final run in the seventh.

Rain fell during the last two innings and the temperature was in the low 50's.

Ken Wood and pitcher Ned Garver teamed to lead Browns to a 5-3 inaugural triumph over the White Sox in Chicago before 9,987 fans.

Wood drove in three runs with a pair of doubles, one of which narrowly missed being a homer. Garver had his troubles and was touched for ten hits, but he was the master in the tight spots. In the fourth Garver snared a liner with the bases loaded.

Truck Driver in a Death Confession

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 19—(AP)—Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle said Tuesday an unemployed truck driver confessed that he bludgeoned flame haired Helen May Piper to death and hurled her body down a bluff.

Hornbuckle said Harry A. Wilson, 28, ex-convict friend of the thrice-married waitress, made this oral statement.

Wilson beat the 27-year-old mother of three children with a hammer after an argument Thursday over use of his car. The two had been drinking.

A written confession is expected today, Hornbuckle said.

Wilson had served a prison term for auto theft.

Mother-in-Law of New York's Mayor "Stuck"

NEW YORK, April 19 — (AP) — Don't ask Mayor William O'Dwyer to fix a New York City parking ticket.

On April 1 the mayor's new mother-in-law, Mrs. Eleanor Young, of Westwood, N. J., got a summons for a $4 violation.

Yesterday . . . she paid by mail.

This robin, thinking his reflection an intruder, squares off (left) to attack to attack his image in the hub cap of a car at the Earl Wright home in Ponca City, Okla. At right he makes an attack, with wings flying. He made little headway in the day-long battle. Occasionally he hopped around the wheel to see if the "other" bird was hiding. A dozen times Wright drove him away. But, the persistent bird kept returning, until nightfall ended the battle. (AP PHOTO)

Aged Wealthy Husband Refused Reconciliation

LOS ANGELES, April 19—Mrs. George H. Stoll, 78-years-old wife of 63 years, has refused to become reconciled with her 84-year-old wealthy husband. Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle awarded her $1,300 monthly temporary alimony Monday after he failed to bring the couple into agreement.

Stoll, who accumulated a fortune in coffee and real estate, was willing, but Mrs. Stoll, in court in a wheel chair, refused and broke into sobs.

She has asked for $2,300 monthly in a separate maintenance suit.

In An Armed Force

MAIZURU, Japan, April 19—(AP)—Most of the 40 Japanese generals returned home yesterday by the Russians think Japan should have an army, air force and navy, the former governor of Manchuria said today.

Kiyoshi Mitani, also repatriated, said the generals told him Japan needs a military force "for defense." Japan's new constitution prohibits it from having any military force.

He said they estimate Japan needs 12 divisions of 10,000 troops each, a navy to patrol the long coastline and an air force.

The office of NLRB General Counsel Robert N. Denham made announcement Tuesday. It said her dismissal was effective March 30 and resulted from an investigation ordered by Denham.

Cutback In Mail Services

Only One Delivery Daily to Residential Sections; Order is Effective at Once

Assistant postmaster of Sedalia Guy L. Johnson, said today he had received no official notification from Washington, D. C., concerning the order of one delivery a day.

He further said that deliveries in Sedalia are being made as in the past, and they will continue to make the same deliveries until official notice is received.

WASHINGTON, April 19—(AP)—Most postmasters over the country get orders today for a cut in mail service, including a limit of one delivery a day to residential areas.

Further, post office windows are to close earlier where possible and other economies are in the works.

The orders were announced last night by Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson. Postmasters were instructed to begin putting them into effect as soon as they are received.

The "immediate" order applies particularly to delivery restrictions. A 30-day notice is to be allowed on the curtailment of services that affect business operations, such as receipt of mail at the windows and back platforms of postoffices.

WASHINGTON, April 19—(AP)—A cutback in nation-wide postal service was termed "outrageous" today by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.).

"Fifty million tired taxpayers have been hit in the mailbox by this ruling," Wiley said in a statement. He said "there is a need for more mail service rather than less mail service."

Cuts Necessary

Donaldson explained that cuts in service are necessary because post office costs have been far out-running postal receipts.

He has been trying to get Congress to vote more money to his department and to let it raise postal rates by a total of about $600,000,000 a year.

In fact, some members of Congress took the view that the mail service curtailment was decided on in order to pressure Congress into giving the postal department more money.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.), of the appropriations committee commented to newsmen that the decision to curb service "seems well-timed."

He added that a storm of protests from mail users probably will follow the department's decision and is bound to be reflected when House members vote on postal funds in the omnibus appropriations bill, probably next week.

Organized Campaign

"There has been an organized campaign to increase almost every allotment in this bill," Cannon said. "The bill already carries more money than the country can afford to spend, and I am going to fight every move to increase its total."

Rep. Taber of New York, top Republican on the committee, said he would go further and demand that there not only be no increases but that the bill's total be trimmed "substantially."

For the postoffice department the bill would allot $2,207,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1. This is a reduction of $28,000,000 from what the president requested but $105,000,000 more than the department received for the current fiscal year.

NEW YORK, April 19—(AP)—A postal union official said today that cutbacks in U. S. postal service probably will cause "furlough or dismissal" of 10 to 15 per cent of New York City's letter carriers.

Philip Lepper, president of New York Branch 36 of the AFL National Association of Letter Carriers, said the cutback orders have "thrown panic into the hearts" of the 5,200 local letter carriers he represents.

The economy order, trimming mail deliveries to once daily, also will "doubtlessly mean" reductions in clerical forces, Lepper said. He added that postal workers would not strike because of the order, even if federal law permitted them to do so.

Lepper charged the order would hurt business and the American public "far worse" than postal employees.

'Signals' Topic Of Talk Given At Lions Club

Gates to be Erected At Ohio, Kentucky Speaker Declares

The Sedalia Lions club had as its noonday speaker today E. W. Kettleston, signal supervisor of the Missouri Pacific Lines, who spoke on "Signals and Safety."

The meeting was held in the Ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel.

Beginning his talk, Mr. Kettleston said: "We are all more or less railroaders. Some are professional railroaders because they make their living by working on the railroad. Others are railroaders through hobby, because they railroad by making and running scale models. Others are railroaders, we might say, once a year—at Christmas time. That's when we go shopping for an electric train for Junior or the grandson. We must first set it up and operate it before Christmas to see if it works. Then take it over because we are afraid Junior or the grandson might break it."

"Then there is the railroad worker who has to ever-so-often take the boy down to the station to see the trains come in and leave. We like it, too, because it's an excuse to go to the station."

Must Work Together

"Professional railroad taking the section man to build the roadbed and lay the tracks for the locomotive to run on. It takes the shopman to build the locomotive that runs on the tracks. And it takes others to operate it. Some think their job is the most important, while in fact one cannot operate without the other. None can successfully operate without the signals in this generation of fast trains."

"Signals are like the nerves in our bodies. They operate from a central point and spread out over hundreds of miles of railroad the same as the nerve system in the human body. Signals were crude at the start and the first advent of signals was a suspended ball in front of the station."

College of Physicians Hear Cold is Due to Weather

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

BOSTON, April 19—(AP)—The common cold is probably not caused by a virus as you have been told for many years, nor by germs of any sort.

Instead Grandfather was right when he said it was caused by the weather.

This surprising view of colds was given to the American College of Physicians by Dr. William J. Kerr, of San Francisco, and of the University of California School of Medicine. Dr. Kerr is eminent. His opinions are explained are backed by a lot of laboratory experiments.

He said he doesn't believe that colds are caused by any living germs caused by any living colds are caused by any living and some other diseases can damage the nose and so start a cold.

Usual Causes

The usual causes, he said, are dusts, emotions, and especially those changes in the nose which come with changes in weather.

After an even temperature all summer, he said, you get cold fall weather. Your nasal passages get over-cooled. The same over-

Held For Inquiry Into Beating of Son

TOLEDO, O., April 19—(AP)—Joseph Vinaszki, Sr., 34, beat his 3-year-old son about the head and body, pulled out some of his hair and then put salt on the child's buttock wounds, police inspector Anthony Bosch said today.

The child went into convulsions and is reported in poor condition. The father, held by police for investigation, denied the beating. The child's mother insisted he struck the boy because he was "not house-broken."

Open House at Telephone Co. April 27, 28, 29

Next week, Sedalia residents are invited to visit behind-the-scenes of their telephone systems. T. M. Mullaly, manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company announced today.

Plans have been completed for an "Open House" at the telephone building, 202 East Third street, Thursday through Saturday, April 27, 28 and 29, Mullaly said.

Everyone is invited to visit the exchange during the afternoons and evenings of these three days and get a "back stage" view of how the telephone system operates, the manager said.

Twenty telephone employees will be on hand to serve as guides. They will conduct visitors through the buildings and explain the equipment to them.

Special Displays

In addition to the demonstration of central office equipment, Mullaly explained that special displays also will be set up. Included will be a model of Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone, a section of coaxial cable used for the transmission of television, a recording machine that will enable visitors to hear what their voices sound like over the telephone, and many other items.

The hours of the Open House are from 2 to 5 in the afternoons, and 7 to 9 in the evenings. Mullaly said that all subscribers will receive a special invitation in the mail soon.

Four Boys on An Outing Are Drowned

Became Panicky And Leaped Into Water When Barge Floated

ST. LOUIS, April 19—(AP)—Four boys on an outing from school drowned yesterday in a needless leap from a runaway barge in the Mississippi river at St. Louis.

A huge grain barge on which they were playing broke loose and started floating downstream.

The four victims and another boy became panicky and leaped into the water as the barge swung out about 100 feet from shore. They ignored the shouted warning of a bystander not to jump.

The lone survivor, James Husgen, 13, managed to grasp one end of a rope thrown to him by the bystander, Lee Crabtree.

Seemed Able to Swim

"All of the boys seemed able to swim, but as I worked with Husgen to get him ashore I could see them sink, one by one," Crabtree said.

"They were caught in the strong current and swept away from me downstream."

Drowned were Edward Johnson, 14, and his brother, John, 12, Albert Moll, 13, and Eugene Duerst, 13.

All would have been safe had they remained on the big barge. Bodies Not Recovered

Their bodies have not been recovered.

Police speculated the boys had tampered with the barge's moorings, allowing it to break loose. The only clue as to why the youths leaped into the swift current came from Husgen, after a tearful reunion with his mother.

He said they were afraid police would blame them for the barge breaking loose. The boys had been excused from classes at a Catholic school because their teachers had to attend a meeting.

They went to the river to fish. The 280-foot barge, loaded with 85,000 bushels of corn, was retrieved by Federal Barge Lines workers and towed back upstream.

Will Operate to Remove Peanut

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19—(AP)—Surgeons at Letterman General hospital here will operate today to remove the peanut which Randy Hollyfield, 3, got stuck in his throat Saturday night in Tokyo.

When physicians in Japan were not able to remove the peanut, the child was hurried aboard a trans-Pacific plane of the Military Air Transport Service and flown to the United States. The plane landed at the Fairfield-Suisun base last night.

Randy is the son of Sgt. and Mrs. George B. Hollyfield whose home town is Cherry Valley, Ark.

Bond Issue Approved

CARROLLTON Mo., April 19—(AP)—A $100,000 bond issue for improvements in the water and light plants of the Carrollton municipal utilities was approved yesterday at a special election.

The vote was 154 to 25, well over the 4/7 majority required.

The improvements will double the capacity of the water plant, extended a year ago by purchase of the former Kansas City Power and Light plant here, and will increase by nearly 50 per cent the capacity of the power plant.

Premium Book For State Fair In Final Stage

Will be Ready For Mailing Weeks Earlier Than Usual

The 1950 State Fair premium book, now in the final stage of publication, will reach the public several weeks earlier than usual and 22,000 copies soon will be mailed to Fair patrons, exhibitors and other interested persons all over the United States, Mexico and Canada. The book includes nearly 300 pages and the cover, in maroon and gold, is in the Gay 'Nineties motif, this being the fiftieth year of the State Fair as an institution.

It carries display advertising from nearly 100 business firms, over a wide territory, and covers the twenty-six major departments of the Fair in detail, as well as giving all regulations, prices and general information. A total of $161,805.50 in cash premiums will be offered at this year's Fair, the new premium book reveals, more than $90,000 of which will be in purses for the five big days of Grand Circuit harness racing, a feature which brought the Missouri Fair, nationwide fame last year. Junior activities, a great feature of the Fair, will get $12,742 in prize moneys, the hog department will come in for $7,530, beef cattle exhibitors will receive $9,564, dairy cattle will draw down $5,701 and $16,840 will be disbursed among light horse exhibitors at the six big night horse shows.

Cancer Drive Into County

The Business and Professional Women's club sponsoring the Cancer Crusade, announces that county organization is getting underway with Beaman, Greenridge and Smithton organized.

Miss Rose Leibbrand, county campaign chairman has contacted as local chairmen in the county, Mr. L. C. Holdner and Mrs. I. J. Rhoads, Beaman; Mrs. Mattie Myers and Mrs. Wilma Eckhoff, Greenridge, co-chairmen; with Miss Verona Neumeyer, in charge of Smithton collections.

Interest in Pettis county is largely centered on the fact that this county has one of five cancer detection clinics in the state of Missouri available for the use of all citizens. The continued maintenance and development of this detection center is imperative, for 50 per cent of all cancer cases can be checked if discovered in time.

There are 6244 deaths from all types of cancer forecast for Missouri in 1950; your contributions will materially aid in reducing these prospective deaths to approximately 3122 deaths. Give to conquer cancer.

Twelve Bishops Take Part in Consecrating Bishop Welles

KANSAS CITY, April 19—(AP)—The Very Rev. Edward Randolph Welles today was consecrated bishop of the Episcopal diocese which includes more than 10,000 members of the church.

Twelve bishops participated in the two-hour ritual held in a brilliant setting of church pageantry at the Grace and Holy Trinity cathedral.

They climaxed the ritual by joining in the laying on of hands, symbolizing the elevation of the 42-year-old dean to the episcopate.

Red, purple, black and white in the vestments of the Episcopal clergy provided a rich background for the centuries-old ceremonies. The ritual began with a block-long procession of church and lay leaders into the cathedral. It was witnessed by 300 communicants from Episcopal parishes here who had been allotted tickets.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill of New York, presiding bishop of the church, was consecrator of the new bishop. The Rt. Rev. Robert Nelson Spencer, the retiring bishop of the diocese, was co-consecrator today.

What the Cold War Means To Symington

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19—This is how W. Stuart Symington, Secretary for Air, sees the cold war:

Russia considers war inevitable. Russia can deliver a surprise atomic attack on "any part of the United States."

Against such a blow, the U. S. is defenseless.

"Our greatest defense will be the knowledge on the part of whoever is foolish enough to attack us that we would be prepared to carry out a full retaliatory attack," Symington told the chamber of commerce last night.

Symington leaves the Air Force Monday to become chairman of the National Security Resources Board. He said his new job will be to help develop a strong defense.

Evening Papers Went for Waste

MONETT, Mo., April 19—(AP)—"Where's our paper?"

That's what scores of irate callers asked Mrs. Frank Snyder last night.

And Mrs. Snyder, distributor for the Springfield Leader and Press here, didn't have the slightest idea. Neither did circulation officials in Springfield.

Finally—after three hours of answering subscribers' calls—it dawned on Mrs. Snyder.

Monett high school is sponsoring a scrap paper drive and had asked residents to place bundles in front of their homes.

One industrious collector apparently had thrown several bundles of the Springfield papers—fresh off the press—in a truckload of scrap and had sent it to Joplin.

Re-Establish Soil Conservation District

LEXINGTON, Mo., April 19—(AP)—Re-establishment of a soil conservation district in Freedom and Lexington townships was approved yesterday in a referendum. The vote was 414 to 172.

Earlier this year a soil district plan for the two townships was declared null and void on the grounds that procedure in setting it up was illegal.

Dog Licenses Due May 1, Now Available at City Hall

"I'll soon be time for dog owners to redeem dog license tags, as they become due, May 1. They are now on sale at the city collector's office in the city hall."

Last year, 599 dog tags were issued from the city collector's office. The price for dog tags are: For every male dog and spayed female dog, the sum of one dollar; for every unspayed female dog, the sum of $2.50. Every dog within the city limits of Sedalia that has been weaned or taken from its mother, or has reached the age of four months, must be licensed.

Following are a few quotes from ordinance No. 3395, pertaining to the keeping of dogs within the corporate limits of the city of Sedalia:

Part of Ordinance
"The city poundmaster William Hatfield, shall take up and impound every dog found in the city not wearing a license tag of the current year, if within the class of dogs required to have license, whether such dog be with their owners, running at large, or enclosed. If the owner produce to the officer a certificate of registry and proof of loss of tag, the officer shall refrain from taking up such dog or dogs."

"It shall be unlawful for any person to keep or harbour within the city, any dangerous or vicious dog or dogs, knowing the same to be dangerous or vicious, and suffer or permit the same to be run at large upon any street, alley, sidewalk or thoroughfare, without being properly muzzled."

"All dogs taken up shall be securely kept in a pound for that purpose by the city and shall be cared for and fed by the city pound master for three days, unless sooner redeemed, at the end of which time the city pound master shall kill such dogs in as quiet and painless a manner as possible, and dispose of its carcass for every unspayed female dog, the sum of $2.50. Every dog within the city limits of Sedalia that has been weaned or taken from its mother, or has reached the age of four months, must be licensed."

Sen. Taft Upholds McCarthy

Demands Inquiry Of Charges Against State Department Made by McCarthy

WASHINGTON, April 19—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) charged today that influential forces in the State Department had "refused to regard the delivery of (government) papers to Communists as a serious offense."

Taft fired this blast at unnamed diplomatic officials in a weekly report to his voters in which he discussed the 1945 Amerasia magazine case and other matters. He also demanded that a Senate foreign relations subcommittee make "an independent, affirmative investigation" of charges made by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

McCarthy has been charging for weeks that the State Department is and has been a haven for Communists and fellow travelers.

He has especially tried to link John S. Service, consular officer, Owen Lattimore, Far Eastern specialist, with the Amerasia case. Service was one of six persons who were arrested on charges of slipping war secrets to the editors of Amerasia, a publication specializing in articles on the Far East.

Refused To Indict

A grand jury refused to indict Service. Three persons were indicted on lesser charges, two of whom were fined. The case against the third of those indicted was dropped.

Lattimore has denied that he figured in getting any secret documents to Amerasia and he also has denied McCarthy's broader charge that he is the top Russian agent in this country. Service likewise has denied any connection with Communists.

The investigating subcommittee has ordered its staff to sift the Amerasia case again while the members themselves go ahead tomorrow with hearing Louis Budenz, former Communist and now a Fordham university professor, testify on what he knows about Lattimore.

In his report to Ohio voters, Taft combined a new defense of McCarthy with an attack on the subcommittee's procedure and on State Department actions and policies.

Spoke of Evidence

In the latter connection, he said there was evidence in the Amerasia case that secret documents were delivered "to a magazine office which had strong Communist connections."

"Some of those concerned were let off with fines and another one (Service) was reinstated in the State Department," Taft said. "In other words, influential forces in the State Department at best refused to regard the delivery of papers to Communists as a serious offense. The long pro-Communist record of far-eastern division raises the same doubt."

Upholds McCarthy

Taft said it isn't true, as charged by some, that "Senator McCarthy is deliberately and publicly accusing prominent citizens of Communist connections for political purposes."

Asserting that the subcommittee headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md.), was instructed by the Senate to make an investigation of McCarthy's charges, Taft said that hadn't been done yet.

"The majority seem to have been more interested in hampering Senator McCarthy than in carrying out the investigation," Taft said. Taft noted that the subcommittee had hired two Republican lawyers as co-counsel.

Ayer Didn't Stay on Committee
However, one of these, Frederick Ayer, Jr., quit yesterday because he said that Tyding had made it clear "he considers it unwise and not in the public interest" for Ayer to accept the appointment.

Ayer was named on recommendation of Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) a subcommittee member. Tydings later discovered that Ayer is a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general in Massachusetts.

Tydings insisted that no candidate for office ought to serve on the committee's staff. He later changed his mind after a blast from Lodge and said Ayer could stay on. Ayer decided he wouldn't.

Progress of New Sewers Reported

Resident Engineer Brings the Public Up to Date

John Vandekamp, fourth ward alderman, chairman of the sewer and sanitation committee of the outgoing City Council, Monday night, at the regular Council meeting, read the following report on the progress of the sewers:

"April 15, 1950

"To The Honorable Mayor, & Members of the City Council, Sedalia, Missouri

"Subject: Status Report on Program of Improvements to the Sanitary and Storm Sewers and Sewage Treatment Plants.

"Gentlemen:

"Following is a report of progress to date on the program of improvements to the Sanitary & Storm Sewers and Sewage Treatment Plants of the City of Sedalia.

"The work being done on the Sanitary Sewers is being done in accordance with Contract No. 3 dated April 4, 1949 issued to the Schell Construction Co. of Jefferson City, Mo., for $319,159.00. As of this date the following work has been done. Construction was started on May 2, 1949. Of the 40,800 lineal ft. of vitrified clay pipe to be laid 5229 ft. has been laid. Of the 141 manholes to be provided 132 have been constructed. Of the four pump structures to be erected foundations for all four are practically completed and the pump has been installed at one station. Work remaining to be done consists of laying the remaining footage of tile, construction of the remaining manholes, (both of these items of work are primarily located in the South District), installation of the remaining three pumps, erection of the brickwork for all four pump structures, replacement of streets to original condition and clean up of properties affected by construction. The work completed to date represents approximately 90% of the work under this contract. To date the contractor has been paid for work on this contract $241,575.84. It is estimated that work under this contract will be completed by the last of May except for replacement of streets to original condition. This work will take some what longer.

According to Contract

"The work being done on the Storm Sewers is being done in accordance with Contract No. 8 dated February 6, 1950 issued to Hastings & Stiers of St. Louis, Mo., for $139,415.00 and consists of a 8 ft. combination storm and sanitary sewer running North approximately 2740 ft. from the

From the outlet of the new combination sewer, under Contract No. 9 dated February 6, 1950 and issued to W. J. Menefee Construction Co. of Sedalia, Mo., necessary work is being done on the first 430 ft. of the 24-inch vitrified clay pipe outfall sewer to the North Sewage Treatment Plant which intercepts the sanitary flow of the above combination sewer and carries it to the North Treatment plant. As of this date the following work has been done on Contract No. 8. Construction was started February 27, 1950. Two hundred and twenty lineal ft. of concrete invert has been poured and 60 lineal ft. of concrete arch is in place. There was a two week delay after construction started due to failure of the manufacturer to deliver reinforced steel as promised. To date the contractor has been paid for work on this contract $10,899.31. It is estimated that work under this contract will be completed around the last of August. Construction was started April 5, 1950 on Contract No. 9 and work done to date consists of cleaning the first 170 ft. of the existing sewer and preparing foundations for the section which passes under the bridge on Grand Ave. It is estimated that work under this contract will be completed around the first part of July.

Work Started June 6, 1949

"The work being done on the South Treatment Plant is being done in accordance with Contract No. 5 dated May 2, 1949 issued to Lippert Brothers Inc., of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, for $136,- 800. Construction was started June 16, 1949 and as of this date the plant has been completed and was put in operation on April 6, 1950. There is some clean up work still to be done consisting of final grading, painting, destruction, and filling in of the old septic tank which cannot be done until the plant has been in operation long enough to make the necessary adjustments to equipment under operating conditions, and fencing in the area. This work should be completed by the early part of May. Work completed to date represents approximately 97% of the work under this contract. To date the contractor has been paid for work on this contract $110,924.60. "The work being done on the North & West Treatment Plants is being done in accordance with Contracts No. 6 and No. 7 dated June 7, 1949 issued to Lippert Brothers, Inc., of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Contract No. 6 for the North Plant was for $152,125.00 and Contract No. 7 for the West Plant was for $93,235.00. Construction was started on the North Plant July 20, 1949 and on the West Plant August 16, 1949. Work done to date on Contract No. 6 represents approximately 85% completion of the work under this contract and work done to date on Contract No. 7 represents approximately 75% completion of the work under this contract. To date the contractor has been paid $113,086.01 on Contract No. 6 and $57,010.54 on Contract No. 7. It is estimated that both these plants will be ready for operation between the middle of the latter part of June.

"You never can tell till you try"—so we want you to try the 1950 Buick. And we especially want you to compare it with others. Drive any other car—then drive Buick and see what your money should buy in ride, room, handling and power.

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines (New F-263 engine in SUPER models). • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights. • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back. • TRAFFIC-MANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius. • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles. • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube. • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

RAP your fist against these stout bars—feel the gauge of the bumper stock they're made of—and you know you've got stout protection here.

But then figure:

Here are nine bumper guards (not counting the two that hold the parking lights) so that's one extra item you needn't buy.

And each is individually replaceable—if damage should occur you have only a simple part or two to replace, instead of a complete, cast-metal grille.

Thus this stunning new design—freshest front-end style note on the highways—protects your pocketbook as well as your car.

Avoids costly repair bills as it avoids "locking horns" with the car ahead. Cuts upkeep as it cuts inches from the car's total length, thus making parking and garaging easier.

What you really have here is a four-way forefront. A design that sets the coming style note—avoids many a tangle with the car ahead—makes handling easier—and costs less to repair.

And note that parking-light lenses, made of plastic and set deep in recessed sockets, are well out of harm's way—even when pushing a stalled car.

You'll find this bold front end only on Buick—as you'll find Fireball power, Dynaflo Drive,* Buick's wonderful ride, and many another headline value only on these beauties.

Why not see your dealer now for the whole story—including the happy story on prices to fit practically any budget?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPACIAL models.

Baruch Proposal to Mobilize For Cold War Has Much Merit

By Bruce Blossat

There's good reason to approve Bernard M. Baruch's proposal for a "general staff" for peace to stay vigilantly on the job until the cold war is won.

As Baruch sees such a staff, it would deal continuously with the whole range of peace problems. It would serve as a "central point of decision, weighing all the many commitments pressed upon us, guiding the best disposition of our strained resources, determining where we can achieve a decisive breakthrough — and at what effort."

This looks wise, for one thing, because it might help us Americans face the realities of these difficult times. Baruch points that out: "Although the cold war is now dragging into its sixth year and despite the enormous resources we have expended, we still have not faced up to what total peace waging requires."

This plainly may mean more than just a wiser channeling of resources into the various cold war theaters, important as that is. To keep pace with Russia may call for far heavier sacrifices than we have yet made or shown any inclination to make.

In a conflict that is perhaps more dangerous than any hot war we ever fought, there may be no place for the sort of pleasant, even occasionally luxurious living Americans are now enjoying.

For example, many critics have charged that our defenses may actually be somewhat below the minimum safety mark. Whether or not this is true, it is clear the Administration is trying to strike a perilous balance between giving us minimum protection and allowing us to keep on doing very good business as usual.

Naturally a demand for greater sacrifices would be politically unpopular. But we're playing with fire if it is political timidity rather than a sound appraisal of realities that dictates our present policies.

A GHQ for peace, set up as Baruch conceives it, would have the power to wage the cold war on a unified, global basis. With that broad outlook, it would be well equipped to know whether we were at any moment playing with fire by wasting our resources or not expending them fully enough in the right ways.

No sensible person wants to saddle our civilian economy with crushing burdens that throttle our peacetime growth and progress. Indeed, if we erred too heavily in that direction we might play right into the Russians' hands. But neither must we endanger the survival of our freedoms by coasting along agreeably while the Communists build up an overpowering advantage over us.

The delicate judgments that must be made to keep us on course, with neither too much nor too little given to this tense struggle, seem a fitting responsibility for a group of our highest caliber men. As a general staff for peace, they could keep us all courageously alert to the hard tasks of a cold war.

At the same time they would have to serve as watchful guardians of our peacetime liberties and, too, as energetic promoters of the nation's economic progress.

TOUCHY PEOPLE AND UNSURE PEOPLE

Yesterday we began our meditations on negativisms and inferiority attitudes, and we saw that some assert themselves most when they are least sure of themselves. I know of a man who, feeling inferior to his wife, asserts his superiority by insisting on buying her clothes and telling her what to wear—to his wife's dismay! He insists on bossing her outer life, for he feels inferior before her mental and spiritual life.

Sometimes there is an alternation between aggressive attitudes and periods of discouragement and self-depreciation. This cycloid behavior results in moodiness. Such a person ranges in temperament from very high mountains to very low valleys. But often the attitudes of retreat and defeat result not in mood depression, but in the "tic." Professor David Eitzen says, "Slamming the door, walking rapidly, stamping the floor, arguing with one's associates, spanking the children—these are manifestations of a difficulty not faced and intelligently approached." Whether manifested as moodiness and sulking or as an outburst of temper with surroundings or with others, the difficulty is the same sense of inward inferiority. The man is out of sorts with himself; so he vents his ill-humor on his surroundings. He creates earthquakes usually in order to hide his own inner soul-quakes. Just as bodily shivers are an attempt of nature to bring up one's temperature when it has fallen below par, so these shakes of temper are a psychological attempt to bring up the temperature of the inner self. The man is inwardly slipping; so he takes to outer shouting. This is the law of overcompensation at work. Touchy people are unconscious feeling that they are looking for slights, for they have a size of a man by the size of the things that upset him. Not long ago I received a special-delivery letter from a woman asking me to come a rather long journey to see her, for she was afraid she was going to have a total breakdown. Cause? Her plans for Christmas had been upset!

O God, I come to Thee to find power to be really strong. Save me from these make-believe strengths that leave me weak. I want to be the kind of person nothing without can upset, for I am so sure within. But only as I am inwardly fortified by Thy strength can this happen. I expose myself to Thy true strength. In Jesus' name. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

Presence of Dropsy Signals Serious Condition Elsewhere

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

Dropsy is a condition in which fluids which should have been eliminated accumulate in the body and cause swelling. The medical term for dropsy is edema. Dropsy while not of itself a disease is usually a sign of some serious underlying condition.

One of the most common causes of dropsy is failure of the heart to pump as well as it should. The normally-acting heart pumps the blood through the blood vessels at a fairly even rate. The blood which flows through the kidneys is treated by these organs so that fluids which should not be kept in the body are eliminated. If, however, the heart is not working well, the blood will pass too slowly through the kidneys and too much fluid is kept in the body.

This causes swelling. The most common place for this swelling to appear is in the feet and ankles because these are held down a good deal of the time and the force of gravity aids in the deposit of fluids in these regions.

One of the treatments for dropsy of the feet caused by heart disease is bed rest so that gravity will not work to aid the deposit of fluid there. Of course, the heart itself must also be treated. Rest is good for this organ also since the heart does not have to work so hard when the rest of the body is not exerting. Many forms of heart disease can bring about this type of heart weakness and it is not peculiar to any one type.

There are other conditions which may lead to dropsy. One of the most important is damage to the kidneys themselves. If they fail to remove the fluid and other undesirable material from the blood, dropsy may result. In fact, one of the most severe forms of dropsy is that which comes in Bright's disease, or nephritis,

How Not to Solve the Farm Problem

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK

THE STORY: Clemency Norton, nursery governess to Baby Amherley, had been told politely by Syrie to keep away from Piers Amherley, Jon's brother, at whose luxurious home in Alameda the Amherleys live. But Clemency, much as she was able to avoid becoming involved in the family's domestic affairs and she is happy to be allowed at last to take a day's rest with the Amherleys, now Piers is ready to take Clemency home.

IV
"WHEN they started off a few minutes later the stars were bright and Clemency's quickened heartbeats toned down to the peace which seemed to have fallen over everything. The town through which they had to pass again, lay glimmering beneath the stars. The street was narrow, and she judged that it was near the spot where Hamish had spoken to her that morning. They were approaching a small, brilliantly lighted cafe, where under the gay twinnings the tables were filled with a cosmopolitan crowd. As they were nearer, a sudden hubbub started up inside the cafe and died down again as three men in European civilian clothes came out, one of them half laughingly trying to persuade their companion to go along with them, but he was obviously very drunk. At that moment an Arab, strolling across the road in the casual way of his kind, almost walked in front of the car, forcing Piers to brake sharply; and Clemency, under herself looking straight into the flushed face of the man at the wheel. After an instant's startled amazement she recognized Jon Amherley. She bit back an exclamation as he drove on. Had Piers seen his brother? If so, it seemed curious that he wanted to ignore the encounter. Then as they slipped into the shadows he stopped the car, and without a word opened the door beside him and got out. "Jules—" "M'sieur?"

got some brandy somewhere—you'd be better when you have had some."

He reached into the pocket beside him and brought out a silver flask and a collapsible drinking cup. He poured a generous measure of brandy.

But the hand she obediently stretched out was shaking too much to be trusted. He put an arm about her shoulders, and steadying her against him, held the cup to her lips. She swallowed and choked as the burning liquid ran down her throat.

"That's better." He tossed away the last few drops, and put flask and cup on the seat beside him, still keeping hold of her. "You can howl now if you want to." "I don't," she said weakly. "Then keep quiet for a minute."

It seemed perfectly natural to obey him. She closed her eyes, aware of the hard firmness of his shoulder behind her head, of the strength of his arms around her.

The moon was rising and by its light he looked down at her, watching the color steal back into her face—noting subconsciously the shadows her lowered lashes threw on her cheeks.

Lovely, desirable, made to be loved. . . . He straightened abruptly, taking his arm from about her, breaking the spell before it was too strong to resist.

"Better now? I'll go and look into the matter of that tire." For a long moment Clemency remained where he had left her, while he fixed the blow-out. Half frightened, she strove vehemently to deny that shaken flame in her blood.

Death was not a thing one wanted to contemplate at the best of times, and she was much too young to be a stoic. Least of all did death seem desirable when one had just discovered how terribly sweet it could be to live.

But that knowledge was away in the back of her mind, where she would keep it safely locked. If she could.

which is an inflammation of the kidneys.

Appears in Lungs

Sometimes dropsy occurs not in the legs only but elsewhere in the body including the abdominal cavity or the lungs. Under such circumstances if the fluid cannot be removed by direct action on the heart or the kidneys, it may be necessary to remove some of the excess fluid by inserting a needle and drawing off the fluid through a syringe. This is a temporary measure. The accumulation of undesired fluid in the body from these two principal causes, or from some of the less common ones, is a serious sign. Recovery often takes place. However, the body is ordinarily so well run that minor difficulties with the heart or kidneys are taken care of and the appearance of dropsy must usually be considered as a sign of something seriously wrong.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Writes a seeing-eye wife: "A young divorcee in our neighborhood is making an utter fool out of my husband. "She has used every trick in the book to gain his sympathy and enlist his help in her personal and business affairs. She often manages to head for the bus stop just as he is driving to work. She gets him to make some small repair for her—then offers him a drink, etc. But why go on—the tricks are as old as time, and seemingly as endless.

"The Singin' Skule Regiment" presented at the Sedalia Theatre Tuesday night for the benefit of the Bible school of the First Christian church was a distinct success. The amateur production had as participants numerous members of that church and others demonstrating much ability.

When she does your husband may feel a trifle foolish. But don't expect him to admit it. And don't even hope it will teach him a lasting lesson. He'll probably be an easy mark for the next woman who sets out to make him feel like a big, strong, wonderful man.

By the way, have you tried to make him feel like that yourself lately?

Estimate Too Low on Deficit

Since January Tax Collections Been Disappointing

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The experts who advise congress on taxes figured Tuesday President Truman guessed $1,200,000,000 too low in estimating this year's government deficit.

They calculated that the treasury will find itself $6,700,000,000 in the red by June 30, end of the 1950 fiscal year, instead of $5,500,000,000 as Mr. Truman estimated in his January budget message.

By their appraisal, the government seems to be suffering from a case of limping revenues which do not appear to have hampered its spending arm.

The deficit thus far in fiscal '50 stood at $1,888,785,525.79 last Friday, and was headed up. The total national debt that same day was $255,483,825,162.40. That is about $1,703 a person on a basis of a 150,000,000 population. A $6,700,000,000 deficit amounts to $44.67 apiece on the same basis.

Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the joint senate-house committee on internal revenue taxation, presented a new fiscal forecast prepared by the committee's "taxperts."

The committee's formal report said the staff took account of "the disappointing collections, especially from individual income tax, since January of this year."

Look to 1951 Fiscal Year

Looking ahead to the 1951 fiscal year which starts next July 1, George said the staff figured the government would go $7,300,000,000 into the red in that twelve months. President Truman estimated the '51 deficit at $5,100,000,000 and predicted that the country would be "moving toward budgetary balance in the next few years."

George commented that in past estimates the committee staff has "not missed the mark greatly."

The staff's estimates were based on an assumed national income of $221,000,000,000 in calendar 1950, dropping to $207,000,000,000 in the first six months of 1951.

"The level of business activity assumed by the staff was arrived at after consultation with a number of outstanding economic analysts, both in private industry and in the government," the report said.

The staff based its spending calculations on the same outlay figures Mr. Truman used in January.

Thus its estimate disregarded any cuts—or additions—congress may apply to its appropriations, or any possible changes in the tax laws.

The chance for a cut in excise taxes this year was beginning to look pretty dim. There is no lack of enthusiasm among the lawmakers for cutting back or abolishing some of these federal sales levies, but Mr. Truman has served notice he is prepared to veto any excise cut that doesn't provide for making up the revenue somewhere else.

Barnett Destroyed 70 Years Ago by a Cyclone

The 10th day of April, 1880 will long be remembered in this community, when the small town of Barnettville, Mo., was completely destroyed by a cyclone which left death and destruction in its path, killing eleven people and injuring many. It occurred on Sunday afternoon about 4 p.m. and cut a path one mile wide and several miles long. It first hit near Marshfield, Mo., destroying that town and followed the direction of southwest to northeast. It seemed to rise after leaving Marshfield and dipped again near the Big Gravois. It was accompanied by heavy rainfall and hail as large as heneggs which entirely covered the ground in places.

Barnettville which was located one mile north of the present town of Barnett, was named for the son of Barnett Lusk, whose name was Barnett Lusk, Jr. He passed away in early manhood. Mr. Lusk operated the first store in this town and named it in honor of his son.

At the time of the cyclone the business places consisted of two stores and a blacksmith shop, also several residences. Mr. Ninenger and Archie Campbell operated the stores and Marion McClain the blacksmith shop.

Those killed were Archie Campbell, Dan and Shores Hunter, Rube Routon, Mr. and Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Gordon Green and two children, Leonia Catherine and an infant son. Two of the names of the dead could not be learned.

The injured were cared for in the homes of Dr. R. M. Hargett, James Yow, Daniel M. English, Wm. Beard and Sampson Phillips.

Among those seriously injured were, Mr. and Mrs. Marion McClain and four children, Anna, Beulah, Daisy, and Charles. Cochran, now known as Mrs. Geeb Cochran, is the only member of the family remaining in our community. Dick Willis, Dr. Joe Bills, James B. Routon and no doubt many others whose names we were unable to obtain.

The homes destroyed and wrecked were Elihu Bandy, Joe T. Routon, Jack Kelly, Gordon Green, A. B. Brock, Chas. Tompkins, Archie Campbell, Marion McClain, Mr. Ninenger, Dr. Joe Bills, Tom Cotten, Mr. McKinney, James Nall, Emery Freeman, Israel Burkhardt, Riley Milbourn and John Goodman, Riley and John Goodman.

Many freakish incidents were reported:

A coat of John C. Phillips, who was at the McKinney home during the storm, was found in Boone County and identified by a letter in the pocket and returned to him. Horses and cattle were found with rails and timbers through them, wheat straw was driven in fence posts and chickens were picked of all their feathers. The floors of the store buildings were left and brick from the flues went through them as clean as a bullet would. Yards or dress material, lace and embroidery were scattered over the 40 Acres south of the Ward Miller home, then owned by A. B. Brock. At the John Goodman home, now owned by Dwight Jones, all escaped to the cellar except one daughter, Nancy, mother of Mrs. H. D. Gunn, who was blown into the orchard and escaped unhurt. A rock from the cellar steps was lifted by the wind and fell on Mrs. Goodman's foot, removing her slipper. Two men failed to lift this rock.

In 1901 the Rock Island railroad was built one mile south of Barnettville and the town was moved to the present site. The name was then changed to Barnett. Several other storms have hit near here killing a few persons but as the one which occurred 70 years ago the 18th of April. No doubt many other incidents happened that the writer failed to hear. This information was gathered from persons still living who witnessed this cyclone and were then in their early teens.

Kills Wife Rather Than Look for Job

TACOMA, Wash., April 19.—A youthful Tacoma husband admitted in a signed statement to police Tuesday that he killed his wife rather than get up early and look for a job.

But first he smashed the alarm clock she had been winding to be certain he got up early.

Detective Robert Stitsworth said that Thomas E. Spahr, 20, was the man who admitted firing the fatal shot at 1:05 a. m. His victim was 17-year-old Margaret Spahr.

Spahr's statement said he and his wife argued frequently over his inability to find a steady job since they were married last year.

New Skyscraper Boom

NEW YORK—(AP)—Construction of new office buildings being completed in New York this year rivals "several of the most fabulous years in the history of skyscrapers," says Lee Thompson Smith of the Home Title Guaranty Co. in the firm's monthly bulletin.

"This year, with 4,208,000 square feet of new office space being placed on the rental market," Smith says, "is way above 1925's 1,474,700 and 1927's 1,135,700. It is just one building away from the 1929 mark of 4,817,000, right on the heels of 1928's 4,362,800, and makes a good showing against 1929's 5,324,900."

He reports that rents in the new buildings range close to $7 per square foot.

Fire Companies Called

The fire companies were called out to Limit avenue and Eleventh street at 7:38 o'clock Tuesday night where a transformer had "gone out" and caused a slight blaze. There was no damage. During the time repairs were underway the street lights in the downtown area were out.

Men's Choral Club Concert

Presented at the Hubbard High School Tuesday

The Sedalia Men's Choral club under the conductorship of Abe Rosenthal and with accompanist Miss Lillian Fox presented a full concert at the C. C. Hubbard high school Tuesday night. The entire program consisting of religious, secular and spiritual numbers was exceedingly well received by the three hundred people that filled the auditorium.

Prof. J. B. Hylick, principal of the school introduced the Rev. H. U. Campbell, who in turn introduced the club and its director.

The club in its usual superb form gave forth with many of its old stand bys such as "Song of the Jolly Rogers", Mallott's "Lord's Prayer".

In the first portion of the concert the club's accompanist, Miss Fox played Wagner's "Song to an Evening Star". The solo was wildly acclaimed.

In the intermission period a quartet composed of Paul Ginn, Aubrey Case, Carl Yessen and Ralph Hodges sang two numbers, "Coney Island Baby" and "Talk About Jerusalem Morning". The four were called back for an encore of "Story of the Tack".

The club sang other selections such as: "Sweet and Low", "My Wild Irish Rose", and the excellent Fred Waring arrangement of "You'll Never Walk Alone". Let My People Go" and "Song of the Merry Men". This last selection was sung to the lyrics written by the club member, G. Patrick Darnall. The program was closed with the club's traditional clincher, "Battle Hymn of the Republic". The Battle Hymn with all its forcefulness and rhythm brought the concert to a close.

Prof. Hylick said afterward that the concert was attended by people from Warrensburg, Marshall, Ottumwa, Syracuse, Concordia and as far as Jefferson City.

The money taken in the free will offering will go into a fund of the Hubbard P.T.A. to purchase a movie projector. Hylick added that he hoped the Choral club's presence in Hubbard could be an annual affair. He said he was very much pleased with the concert. The audience was responsive throughout the concert and at no time did they lack approval.

New U. S. Housing Bill Promises Help For Some Ex-GI's and Vets' Widows

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Approximately 13,000,000 World War II veterans who have not yet used any of their GI loan benefits, and an estimated 175,000 unmarried widows of World War II vets, have a brand new housing outlook.

The new U. S. housing act, just passed by congress, greatly liberalizes the home loan provisions of the GI Bill of Rights and, for the first time, gives the unmarried widows a GI bill benefit. It doesn't make any difference whether a veteran was killed during the war, in action, or died a natural death since the war. If he could have qualified for GI rights, his widow now can get a home on the same terms as any veteran.

With a few exceptions, the new law does not apply to any veteran who has already used any part of his GI loan benefits. If a vet lost his GI home as a result of government condemnation, by fire or "other compelling reasons not the fault of the veteran," the Administrator of Veterans Affairs may make him eligible under the new measure.

The VA Administrator also has the authority to rule on whether or not a vet who has used up only a fraction of his loan guarantee will be eligible for the liberalized provisions. Although the final word on this won't be given for some time, the unofficial opinion kill it earlier if he thinks it is necessary. Most experts agree that this provision will virtually halt the use of the combined loan immediately. They reason that the liberalized provisions make it less desirable than the loans that will soon become available.

A final important part of the new law permits the government to insure up to 95 per cent of the cost of a cooperative housing project will be occupied by veterans.

Deliver Paper by Low Flying Plane

CARTHAGE, Mo., April 19.—The Carthage Evening Press is being delivered by low-flying airplane to about 100 individual homes in rural areas.

In January, 1947, Lee Hooker, circulation manager of the Press, arranged to make bundle drops by air to the nearby towns of Diamond, Jasper, Sarcoxie and Avilla. Carriers picked up the bundles and delivered papers to subscribers.

The success of this service led to the idea of individual home deliveries in rural areas. The individual service was started last April and in June and July the paper was going to 215 homes.

Walt Disney is credited with having produced the first movie cartoon, "Steamboat Willie," in 1928.

It's Barnyard gossip....
By A. B. WARREN
BOVINE MASTITIS
In this section where the dairy herd plays a prominent part, mastitis or garget is an every day problem. This disease causes a terrific loss from decreased production and from poor quality milk. Many times it exists in a chronic form and is hard to detect except through a flare-up when the cow's udder becomes swollen and red, the milk is generally stringy.
This disease, in most cases, can be successfully treated with Aureomycin Ointment or Penicillin either in ointment or bougies (sticks) by the farmer with very little expense or trouble. If you are interested just ask for literature... it's free!

Order Cut In Mail Services

the appropriations committee anticipates a postal operating deficit again next year even if pending legislation hiking postal rates is passed.

The committee suggested that the department effect some savings by reducing the number of mail deliveries in residential areas "wherever possible."

Some congested residential areas might not be able to get by on one delivery a day, the committee said. These have been getting two or three a day.

However, Donaldson made no exception in laying down the one-a-day limitation. He went further and said that mixed areas including shops and residences shall not be classed as business districts for more frequent service.

Two Deliveries To Business

On Saturday's business areas which have been getting three deliveries a day are hereafter to get only two. Those business areas which have been getting two on Saturday will get but one.

Also, only first class mail, newspapers and parcel post will be processed during the night hours, in order to cut down on payroll costs. Night time pickups of mail from street boxes are to be sharply curtailed. Postoffice window services are to close not later than 6 p. m., and by 5 p. m. if possible.

Donaldson said further reductions in personnel are in the offing.

His order brought a prompt protest from the AFL Association of Letter Carriers, which called it "a rape of the postal service" and said it would protest to Congress.

Mr. Helmreich has been an engineer for the American Telephone and Telegraph company in New York and the new appointment comes through the major reorganization of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company with the transfer of the area operations office from Kansas City to Topeka.

Awards Given S-H Athletes At Banquet

Jesse Martin And William Hodges Received Letters

The third annual Sacred Heart high school athletic banquet was held Tuesday night in the cafeteria room of the Sacred Heart high school. Seventeen basketball players, fifteen volleyball girls, five cheer leaders and two student managers were present for the occasion, besides guests and faculty members.

Letters in basketball were awarded to Jesse Martin and William Hodges. Jerry Labus, Joseph Mehl, Joseph Paxton, James Bus and James Menefee received stripes. The letter winners in volleyball included: Oda Marie Boss, Irene Bahner, Jean Askren, Mary Jo Welliver, Doris Echoff, and Patricia White. Student manager Herman Wolf and cheerleader Carolyn Ryan also received monograms.

Guests Were Introduced

Rev. Anthony Migoni, athletic director, and volleyball coach at Sacred Heart, presided and introduced the various guests of the evening. Father Migoni in summarizing the accomplishments of the past year emphasized the fact that for the first time in its history the Gremlins played a complete schedule, with a special basketball coach on what they could really call their home court. The basketball record of 13 wins as against 12 losses for the past season was a favorable summary of the past year.

Palmer Nichols, coach of basketball at Sacred Heart high for the past season, summarized the activities of his basketball squad during the year and expressed optimism for basketball at Sacred Heart in the coming years.

Letters Presented

After complimenting the teams on their fine showing and spirit the past season, Father Bruns, superintendent at Sacred Heart, presented the varsity letters and stripes.

The Gremlins, in their first full season of play, emerged with a record of 13 wins against 12 losses. The "B" squad has a record of 8 wins and 6 losses. The Gremlins will lose five varsity players through graduation this spring and retain two letter men for next year's team.

While the volleyball team did not fare so well with a season's record of two wins and ten losses, the volleyball future at Sacred Heart looks brighter with a grade school volleyball program now in force and adequate gym room for practice.

The athletic banquet was made possible through the courtesy of the Sacred Heart high Mothers' club.

Bugs Can be Beautiful Preserved in Plastic

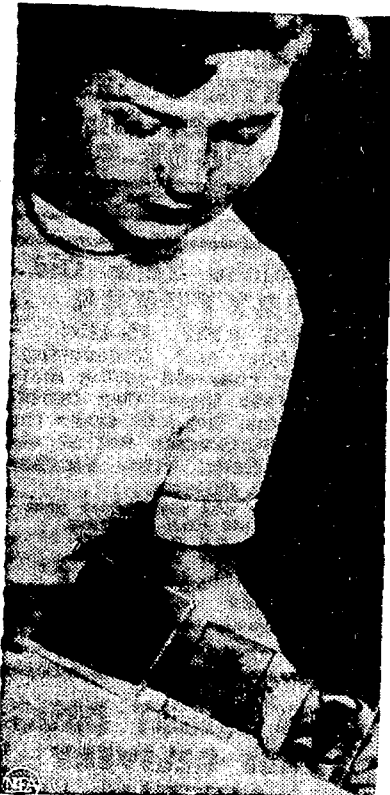

By NEA Service

ATLANTA, Ga. —(NEA)—The Communicable Disease Center of the U. S. Public Health Service in Atlanta has developed a new idea for teaching biology. Well, almost new. It's only a little more than 50,000,000 years old.

It employs the same principle nature used, back in the good old days of the Oligocene Age, when bugs and spiders frequently became entangled in fresh, soft resin along the Baltic coast of eastern Germany. Gradually the material hardened and fossilized into amber. The insects entrapped were preserved intact.

When modern man cuts into nature's deposit of amber, he finds bugs as realistic as a roach on the kitchen floor.

Customarily, insect specimens

BEAUTY AND INSECT: Martha York doesn't mind working with plasticized bugs.

for study or display are stuck on a pin. Everybody who's ever visited a museum has seen them.

Medical entomologists at the Communicable Disease Center found that the bug-on-a-pin method was hardly satisfactory. They teach scores of laboratory technicians from state health departments in every section of the country, and with much handling, Mr. Insect's wings, legs, and tail-light are apt to drop off.

So they took the hint of nature. Many earlier attempts had been made to embed biological specimens in synthetic resins, but with indifferent success. Recently, however, commercial manufacturers have developed several new synthetic compounds which have the advantages of ancient resin.

Using these new materials, Public Health Service entomologists preserve in plastic such specimens as spiders, scorpions, centipedes, mosquitos, ticks, even mice.

The specimens are easy to use and store, and they retain their colors and shapes. There's one other advantage, too. Most of the students are girls. They get the creeps when they have to handle dead mice, scorpions, and other repulsive creatures.

But with a thick armor of plastic between them and the bugs, the girls don't mind the work at all.

British Still Plant Rubber

SINGAPORE — (P) — British planters are still coming forward to serve on Malayan rubber estates despite nearly two years of terrorism. "We have been able to maintain a steady supply of young men of the right stuff who will eventually form the backbone of the industry," said E. C. Martin, vice-chairman of Sims Darby and company, rubber estate agents.

Captain Samuel Nicholas, first continental Marine officer, in 1775 instructed recruiting officers to accept no candidates for the Marine Corps except those "of dependable and religious nature combined with proper robustness of body."

Edison Had Early Radio Patent
NEW YORK—(AP)—The records indicate that what might be termed the "first radio broadcasting patent" in this country was issued to Thomas A. Edison on Dec. 29, 1871.

His application, granted as patent No. 465, 971, said: "Signaling between distant points can be carried on by induction without the use of wires connecting such distant points." This is an apt description of today's method of radio transmission.

Matmen Clash In Sedalia Ring Tonight

Sonny Meyers And Lee Henning to Meet in Big Event

Wrestling Schedule

Main Event
Sonny Meyers vs. Lee Henning
Buffalo, N. Y. vs. St. Joseph, Mo.
3 falls out of 3, 90-minute time limit.
Semi-Windup
Mayes McLain vs. Roy "Cowboy" Graham
Lawrence, Kas. vs. Dallas, Texas
2 falls out of 3, 45-minute time limit.
Opening Event
Walter Sirols vs. Ellis Bashara
Montreal, Canada vs. Houston, Texas
One fall with a 30-minute time limit.

Place: National Guard Armory.
Time: 8:30 P. M. Wednesday.
Referee: Jack Rader, Kansas City.

They will be at it again tonight in the ring at the National Guard armory when three wrestling matches will be held under the auspices of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion. Three events are scheduled on the program.

Opening the mat entertainment tonight will be a match between Ellis Bashara, Houston, Texas, an expert on Texas rules who will clash with Walter Sirols of Montreal, Canada. Sirols had a tough break last week when he lost his match after he practically had it won. He'll be out tonight to redeem himself and gain a point on a climb to the top spot on wrestling cards in this area.

The semi-windup event will bring together Roy "Cowboy" Graham of Dallas, Texas, one of the toughest of tough boys of the mat to meet Mayes McLain of Lawrence, Kansas. McLain a real athlete is expected to be one of the boys to give Graham a fight of his life tonight. McLain despises rough wrestling but he is well qualified to take care of himself and dish it up.

Needs No Introduction
Graham needs no introduction to Sedalia fans. He's been in and out of this territory many times in the past several seasons. Each time he comes he makes more people angry and he is one of the biggest headaches a referee can have in the ring.

The big or main event brings together two giants. Sonny Meyers of St. Joseph, Mo., who is clashing with Lee Henning of Buffalo, N. Y., has been taking an interest in Henning. He has watched him every chance he had to learn his tricks and tonight will be a test of what he has learned.

Both men won their matches last week. Both intend to win tonight. Both are liable to pull anything in the ring to win the event to gain or keep the spotlight on the local card.

The matches tonight will be the last for April. Next week the Legion is sponsoring a carnival west of town and Promoter Christy and the Legion wrestling committee felt it advisable to cancel next week's card and resume the weekly events on Wednesday night, May 3.

Games May be Decided Over The Balk Ruling

NEW YORK, April 19—(P)—The balk may have as much to do with deciding ball games this summer as the home run. Anyway, it'll be baseball's most controversial topic.

Due to the strict enforcement of the rule, which calls for a pitcher to pause for one second during his stretch with runners on base, balks are apt to become a regular warm weather diet.

There were five called in yesterday's major league openers. Umpire Ralph Pinelli called two against rookie pitcher Pat McGlothin of the Brooklyn Dodgers. McGlothin said the first was definitely a balk but the second "doubtful."

At Cincinnati, Johnny Schmitz and Veteran Dutch Leonard (Tsk! Tsk!) were caught by Ump Bill Stewart.

Stewart, who should know, said they were "not a question of stopping."

"On the first," he explained "it was an illegal motion toward first. On the other, Schmitz dropped his hands twice."

Umpire Lee Ballanfant called one against Kirby Higbe of the New York Giants.

Not a single balk was called in the eight 1949 openers.

19 Tourneys For Pro Golfers This Summer

CHICAGO, April 19—(P)—The Professional Golfers' Association—proclaiming that "harmony and understanding" exist between the front office and its playing stars—has arranged a summer program of 19 tournaments carrying $335,000 in prizes.

President Joe Novak said three week-ends still are unfilled in the potential record-breaking summer slate. If they are filled, he said, 1950 will be the PGA's greatest money-posted year—a prize aggregate of more than $530,000 anticipated for combined winter, spring and summer competition.

Summary of 1950 Baseball Openers for Major Leagues

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Old Case, reigning miracle man of baseball, has done it again. The Yankees are off a-winging on the strength of a throbbing 13-10 opening day victory yesterday at Fenway Park.

They did it the hard way, overcoming an early 9-0 Boston lead and winning with nine runs in a shocking eighth-inning revolution. Just like 1949.

Brooks Flopped

Boston, overwhelming favorite to cop the American League pennant and dethrone the World Champion Yanks, had company. Brooklyn's National League champs also flopped. They fell before the youthful Philadelphia Phils, 9-1. Don Newcombe, pitching ace of the favored Brooks, was knocked from the box in the second inning before 29,074.

All in all, attendance at the eight-game opening show was fine. Of course, there was the added impetus of the first night opener in history—at St. Louis—which added 20,871 to the total. The openers drew 252,700 as compared to 257,459 for a nine-game, two-day program last year.

Big Cleveland Crowd

Cleveland drew the best crowd, 65,744. The turnouts ranged all the way down to 9,987 at Chicago where the youthful St. Louis Browns and White Sox were a doubtful lure.

Getting back to Boston where the real fireworks exploded, the Red Sox harbored real hopes of blasting their getaway jinx. Instead they lost their third straight opener. Their 21-game carryover win streak at Fenway Park is smashed.

It started like an easy ride for Mel Parnell, 25-game winner of last year. Boston knocked out Allie Reynolds, the Yanks' No. 1 boy, opening up a wide early lead. Nobody worried when Parnell yielded four runs in the sixth. Boston made it 10-4 going to the eighth.

Just To Make Sure
Then it happened. Fourteen Yanks went to bat in the inning. After Parnell it was Wait Materson, Earl Johnson, Al Papai and finally Charley Schanz. When it was over, the Yanks had scored nine runs for a 13-10 lead. Just to make it sure, they added two in the ninth off Boo Ferriss.

Detroit spoiled the day for Cleveland's fine opening turnout by edging the Indians, 7-6, in 10 innings. The Tigers knocked Bob Lemon out of the box in the eighth and went on to win. Their last four runs were unearned.

President Truman threw out the first ball at Washington where the Senators knocked off the Philadelphia A's, 8-7, before 31,548. Bucky Harris' lightly-regarded Senators knocked out Carl Scheib before he retired a batter.

Browns Beat Chisox

Rookie outfielder Ken Wood and pitcher Ned Garver teamed up to lead the St. Louis Browns to a 5-3 win over Chicago. Wood drove in three runs with two doubles while Garver scattered 10 Chicago hits.

Newcombe had nothing but size at Shibe park where the youthful Phillies humbled Brooklyn behind Robin Roberts' seven hit work-out. Rookie second baseman Mike Goliat broke in with a perfect four-hit day Eddie Waitkus and Gran Hamner each added three hits. It was Waitkus' first league game since he was shot at Chicago last June.

Victory To Cards

In the first night opener at St. Louis, home runs by Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial sent the Cardinals off to a flying start with a 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh.

The battle of the big trade—New York Giants vs. Boston Braves at the Polo Grounds—wound up in an 11-4 decision for Boston. Actually the key men in the most important winter trade were not important factors.

Eddie Stankey and Al Dalk, the two ex-Braves, were in the Giant lineup. Sid Gordon, Buddy Kerr and Willard Marshall, all former Giants, started for Boston.

Major League Opening Day Sidelights

252,700 Fans at Baseball Openers

NEW YORK, April 19—(P)—A total of 252,700 fans paid their way to the eight major league opening games yesterday.

The largest crowd, 65,744 turned up at Cleveland to see their favorite Indians bow, 7-6, in ten innings to the Detroit Tigers. The smallest crowd, 9,987, showed up in Chicago where the White Sox bowed, 5-3 to St. Louis.

A crowd of 20,871 showed up at St. Louis for the first opening night game in major league history as the Cards beat Pittsburgh, 4-2.

The 1950 turnout was a little shy of matching the 1949 turnout count of 257,459 for nine openers.

Yesterday's Attendance:

Plans, Made for Softball League

Softball officials formulated plans for the third annual Tri-County Softball League at a meeting held last week at Ionia, Mo.

Represented at the meeting were the following clubs: Windsor, Ionia, Cole Camp, Warsaw, Versailles, Lincoln, Green Ridge, Stover, La- ham and the Sedalia Knights of Clumbus team. It is anticipated that the league will be represented with 10 clubs.

The officials elected to the league were: Lee J. Stevenson of Stover, re-elected president; Frank V. Mehl, Sedalia, vice-president and Robert Blackstone, Versailles, secretary-treasurer.

Another meeting will be held at Ionia, Wednesday night, April 26, at which time, the playing schedule will be ratified, and other final league arrangements will be made.

Cards' Homers Beat Pirates By 4-2 Score

First Night Opener In History Only Drew 20,871 Fans

By the Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals rewarded a chilled, damp crowd of 20,871 with a triumph last night in launching their 63rd season with the first night opener in major league history.

And the Browns got off to a good start with a victory in Chicago.

The largest crowd ever to attend a Cardinal opener in St. Louis saw the Birds down Pittsburgh 4-2. Red Schoendienst and prize outfielder Stan Musial contributed home runs.

Gerald Staley pitched the entire game and turned in a six-hit performance for the team picked as the second most likely to succeed this year in the National league.

Minutes after Mayor Joseph M. Darst threw out the first ball, Schoendienst smacked the ball to the right field roof—a surprising blow since he hit only three homers all last season. Musial hit his in the third.

Tied up in Sixth
Staley gave up only two hits in the first five innings. Then in the sixth the Pirates tied it up, ex-Cardinal Johnny Hopp driving in both batters with a single.

Catcher Joe Garagiola put the Cards back in front with a timely single in the sixth, one of three he had for the night. Enos Slaughter drove in the final run in the seventh.

Rain fell during the last two innings and the temperature was in the low 50's.

Ken Wood and pitcher Ned Garver teamed to lead Browns to a 5-3 inaugural triumph over the White Sox in Chicago before 9,987 fans.

Wood drove in three runs with a pair of doubles, one of which narrowly missed being a homer. Garver had his troubles and was touched for ten hits, but he was the master in the tight spots. In the fourth Garver snared a liner with the bases loaded.

Two Teams Are Deadlocked for Hockey Title

By Charles C. Cain

DETROIT, April 19—(P)—The Stanley Cup hopes of the underdog New York Rangers were on the upgrade today after they beat the Detroit Red Wings 4-3 in overtime last night to even the series at two games apiece.

It was strictly an uphill battle for the temporarily orphaned Rangers, who will have to play the remaining games in the best-of-seven series on Detroit ice. Their own playing site at Madison Square Garden is being used by a circus.

The New Yorkers played some pretty dismal hockey in the first period as they gave up a pair of goals and were outplayed, outskated and outthought.

They trailed 3-1 with only about 17 minutes of regulation play left and the Red Wings and 13,557 fans were just about convinced that the game was in the bag.

But then the New Yorkers showed an amazing reversal of form. They carried the play to Detroit, banging in a pair of goals to tie things up and send the game into overtime.

The tying goal, a short push shot off the stick of Gus Kyle, came at 16:26 of the final period and touched off the most heated demonstration of the night. Detroit claimed there had been interference on the play, but the claim was disallowed.

The overtime period was a slam bang affair, marking the first time in the playoff series that the two clubs had gone in for really rough play.

Ranger center Don Raleigh ended that interlude at 8:34 as he stole the puck from Joe Carveth around the Detroit net, skated behind and poked a short one past goalie Harry Lumley to give New York its win.

CLEVELAND — Sandy Saddler, 130, New York, stopped Lauro Sales, 130, Mexico City, 9.

"WHITE WAY" TO ST. PETER'S—Addition of 28 modern marble disks, to hold ornate street lamps, to the Della Conciliazione, an approach to St. Peter's basilica, stirred great controversy in Rome. Anti-obelisk Romans charge the "dignity of our city" is being ruined. Between the 25-foot-high columns are marble benches on which weary Holy Year pilgrims may rest on their way to the church.

FASHION PREVIEW—Bound by Paris custom not to show his new spring creations before the accepted release date, designer Pierre Balmain drew this flashlight portrait of his new silhouette for Acme photographer Rene Henry. The sketch suggests a nipped-in waist, a short, full skirt and accent on sleeve detail.

Japanese Grow Bigger On U.S. Food

TOKYO—(P)—Japanese children are getting taller, heavier and healthier. The second post-war check of more than 16,000 school children by public health officials shows that the average is one-third of an inch taller and one to two pounds heavier than on the first survey two years ago. It also shows a 20 per cent decrease in tooth decay and a 10 per cent decrease in near-sightedness. The Japanese health ministry credits the improved food supply for which the American taxpayer is responsible through imports by the occupation.

A presidential elector does not have to vote for the official candidate of his party. The Constitution specifies that each state select its own electors, who then are free to vote for anyone they choose. However, it is the general practice for electors to vote for their party's official candidate.

In order to cross the ocean, a rocket would have to gain speed of about 9000 miles an hour shortly after takeoff. To circle the earth, it would require a speed of 22,000 miles an hour. With a little more speed, 25,000 miles an hour, the rocket could be sent to the moon.

Unusually short waves of 4000 megacycles are used for radio relay of television signals largely because they apply themselves easily to beaming from point to point.

Truck Driver in a Death Confession

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 19—(P)—Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle said Tuesday an unemployed truck driver confessed that he bludgeoned flame haired Helen May Piper to death and hurled her body down a bluff.

Hornbuckle said Harry A. Wilson, 28, ex-convict friend of the thrice-married waitress, made this oral statement.

Wilson beat the 27-year-old mother of three children with a hammer after an argument Thursday over use of his car. The two had been drinking.

A written confession is expected today, Hornbuckle said.

Wilson had served a prison term for auto theft.

Mother-in-Law of New York's Mayor "Stuck"

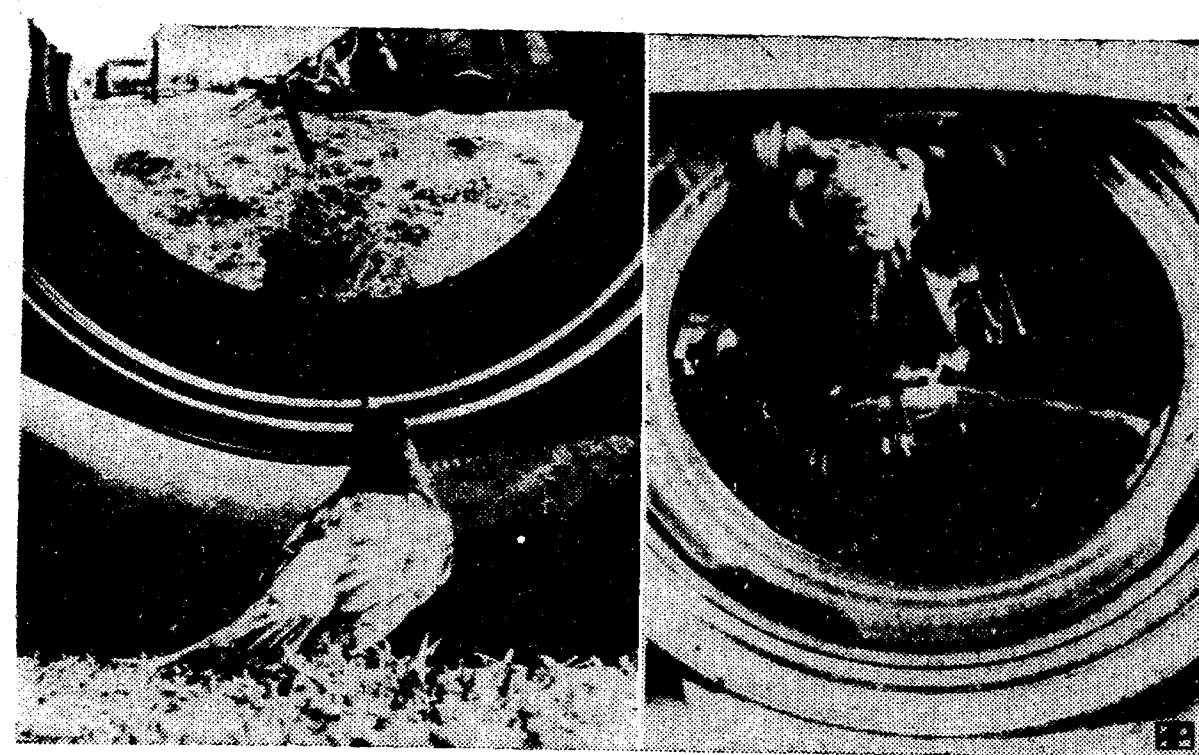

NEW YORK, April 19 — (P) — Don't ask Mayor William O'Dwyer to fix a New York City parking ticket.

On April 1 the mayor's new mother-in-law, Mrs. Eleanor Young, of Westwood, N. J., got a summons for a $4 violation.

Yesterday . . . she paid by mail.

Shadow Boxer

This robin, thinking his reflection an intruder, squares off (left) to attack to attack his image in the hub cap of a car at the Earl Wright home in Ponca City, Okla. At right he makes an attack, with wings flying. He made little headway in the day-long battle. Occasionally he hopped around the wheel to see if the "other" bird was hiding. A dozen times Wright drove him away. But, the persistent bird kept returning until nightfall ended the battle. (AP PHOTO)

Aged Wealthy Husband Refused Reconciliation

LOS ANGELES, April 19—Mrs. George H. Stoll, 78-years-old wife of 63 years, has refused to become reconciled with her 84-year-old wealthy husband. Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle awarded her $1,300 monthly temporary alimony Monday after he failed to bring the couple into agreement.

Stoll, who accumulated a fortune in coffee and real estate, was willing, but Mrs. Stoll, in court in a wheel chair, refused and broke into sobs.

She has asked for $2,300 monthly in a separate maintenance suit.

Wooden matches struck in the U. S. every day, says the National Geographic Society, contains enough wood for 25 six-room houses.

In An Armed Force

MAIZURU, Japan, April 19—(P)—Most of the 40 Japanese generals returned home yesterday by the Russians think Japan should have an army, air force and navy, the former governor of Manchuria said today.

Kiyoshi Mitani, also repatriated, said the generals told him Japan needs a military force "for defense." Japan's new constitution prohibits it from having any military force.

He said they estimate Japan needs 12 divisions of 10,000 troops each, a navy to patrol the long coastline and an air force.

Ancient Egyptians painted the figure of an enemy on the leather soles of their sandals, so they could insult him daily by treading him under foot.

Dismissed From Service
WASHINGTON, April 19—(P)—Ruth Weyand, the white woman government lawyer who married a Negro leader, has been dismissed from her National Labor Relations Board post "for the good of the service."

The office of NLRB General Counsel Robert N. Denham made announcement Tuesday. It said her dismissal was effective March 30 and resulted from an investigation ordered by Denham.
